TODAY'S ASTROLOGY

I Have Lived Before--

Says Aged Lama

CAN WE RECOLLECT OUR PAST LIVES?

IS THERE a strange familiarity about people you have met for the first time? Do scenes and places you have never visited haunt your memory? Are these proof that the personality—an immaterial substance—can survive all earthly changes and return? How many times have you seemed a stranger to yourself—possessed of moods and temperaments that were not your own?

Prejudices, fears, and superstitions have denied millions of men and women a fair and intelligent insight into these yesterdays of their lives. But in the enigmatic East, along the waters of the once sacred Nile, and in the heights of the Himalayas, man began a serious search beyond this veil of today. For centuries, behind monastery walls and in secret grottoes, certain men explored the memory of the soul. Liberating their consciousness from the physical world to which it is ordinarily bound, these investigators went on mystical journeys into celestial realms. They have expressed their experiences in simple teachings. They have disclosed whereby man can glean the true nature of self and find a royal road to peace of mind and resourceful living.

A NEW SERIES

There has long been some argument about whether handwriting analysis and astrology agree in the delineation of the character of the individual. Mary Adams Lloyd is one of the many who declares the two jibe perfectly and complement each other.

What's more, she proves this with actual specimens and a chart of the late great Thomas A. Edison. You will enjoy this new series of articles by Mrs. Lloyd, we are sure—so sure, in fact, that we recommend them to every reader of this magazine. But far more worth while than the temporary enjoyment is the information you'll get from this study. Get going on that first article of the series now. Page 12.

YOUR MAGAZINE

It's still your magazine, so perhaps you'll be interested in helping us to settle a new squabble. Perhaps you read about the roar that went up when we deleted for one issue the Aspectarian to give space for the new service men's guide. Now, even though the aspectarian is definitely back to stay, many readers are still kicking about that precious space given to the service men's guide. These kickers claim that the guide is of no interest to soldiers and others of the armed forces. Please write in and give us your opinion—which will help to determine whether we retain or discontinue the new guide.

All of this is fun, but somewhat wearing on editors and—we're afraid—readers as well. G'by now.

Sir Stafford Cripps Man of Destiny

TO the astrologically uninitiated, it may appear that Sir Stafford Cripps' failure to obtain full cooperation of India in the war against Japan has marked him as an international political has-been, and that he is on his way out.

Actually it is plain to the student of Astrology that the reverse is true. Sir Stafford Cripps was equipped by the planetary configuration at his birth to play an important part in the new world order which will be the natural result of an Allied Nations victory over the aggressor nations.

In summing up the cosmic difference between the destinies of Cripps and his famous contemporary, Winston Churchill, it might well be said that Mr. Churchill is a natural as a "man of the hour" while Sir Stafford is the real leader of his nation, the man who will, through his humanitarian motives, lead them into paths that will fit them into the post-war alignment and allow them to take their place in a world built on justice for all nations rather than preference for favored nations who live by exploiting their weaker and less enlightened brethren.

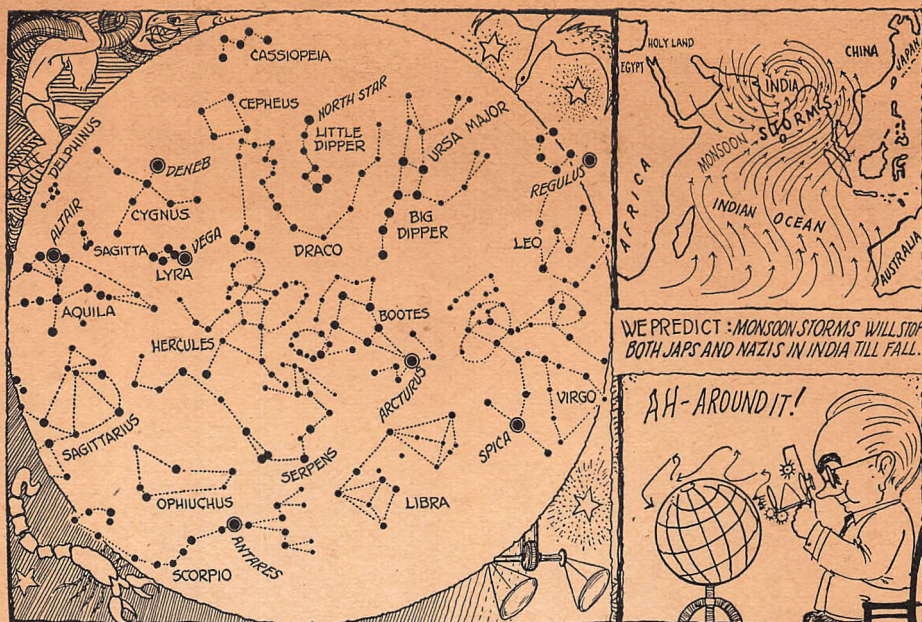

And certainly Britain has needed one of Cripps' stature to offset the blunders committed by well-intentioned, but prejudiced Britishers of the old school. It is only fair, in this connection, to say that these blunders were indicated in the British Declaration of War chart, of September 3rd, 1939. This chart shows Mercury in a channel of administration in affliction with Uranus (Governmental agency) in a channel of contacts and war. It was a signal warning that those who originate and decide British policy and its execution would make one blunder after another—which has been true right down to the time this is being written (April 1942). Add to the Mercury-Uranus affliction the amphibious adversity aspect of Moon conjunct a besieged South Node (Cup of Sorrow) and you have the reason for Dunkirk, Norway, Crete, Hongkong, Singapore, etc. For this reason (as we warned in a previous issue of this magazine) it would be disastrous for the United States to blindly follow the lead of England's war leaders in our war strategy. Despite British tradition of world rulerships, her officialdom seems to have realized this, for she has so far given us the lion's share of leadership since our entry into the conflict. Even the dynamic, although conservative Mr. Churchill is too closely tied up to the old school to take the broad international outlook now demanded. The foregoing carries no implication that we should not fully cooperate with the British in the war effort, but is simply a statement of facts concerning Britain's lack of qualifications to assume the leadership of the Allied Nations in the struggle.

But according to astrological indications one man in England is not bound by the traditions of the conservative die-hards in the tight little isle of England. He is the man whose name heads this article, Sir Richard Stafford Cripps. He was born April 24th, 1889, which data will have to suffice, as authentic information as to his hour of birth could not be obtained.

As a scion of an aristocratic English family, Cripps had every inducement to follow the old line and become something bordering on a social parasite, but his chart shows the humanitarian outlook which caused him to adopt a left-wing attitude toward English politics. This attitude, so hated and feared by Britishers of the old school, almost succeeded in burying him among the unfavored ones who dared to challenge the rights and privileges of the favored (Please turn to page 52)

HERE IS PROF. MAXWELL AT WORK
PREDICTING MILITARY WEATHER

A Brief Visit with Maxwell

By the Editor

TO those of you who have written about deletion of weather forecasts, due to war censorship, we wish to say that if you're lonesome for our associate editor and pre-war weather prognosticator, you are not more lonely for him than he is for you and all the readers of this magazine.

We find the sometimes blunt but always jovial and interesting professor fuming at the bit and anxious to get back at his old job of telling you in advance — far in advance — what the weather conditions in your vicinity are going to be.

And always the inventive scientist, he declares that if it is forbidden to predict advance weather for this half of the globe, he will keep his hand in by taking a look on the other side and give you the lowdown.

Despite his impatience, Professor Maxwell is doing quite well, and is very busy, thank you. Predict weather he will, whether or not he can pass his findings on to you at present. His office is lined with charts, as of yours, and his keen eyes peering as avidly into space as always.

His instruments are not rusting nor collecting dust—and neither is his brain. He is just as sarcastic when lambasting so-called scientific skeptics on the subject of Astrology, just as sure that Astrology holds the key to a successful world as when he planted his brilliant, and sometimes scathing, remarks on the science in general among his weather predictions in a lamented and happier day when we were at peace with all the world.

All this may sound as if we had visited a man who had permanently retired from his active work on astrological weather, but this is far from true. Professor Maxwell is looking forward to the day when he will again come before you with his scientific findings.

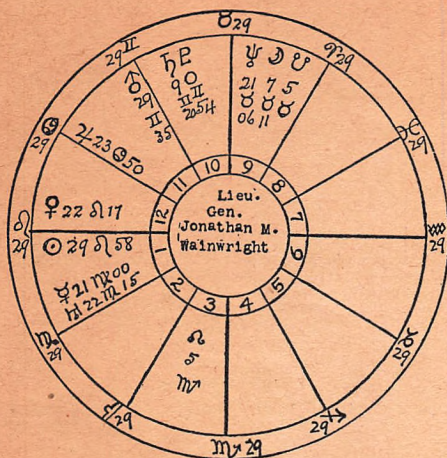

He is still experimenting, still hard at work perfecting his system for locating storm warnings even farther in advance than he has ever attempted before.

When we suggested a chart to illustrate this bit of gossip, one that would remind old readers of this magazine of the predictive charts we enjoyed from

Solar Sketches of Current Figures in the War

General Jonathan M. Wainright

As General MacArthur's successor on Bataan Peninsula, Lieutenant General Jonathan M. Wainwright not only took on a hopeless task, but got himself into the spotlight of world news. We do not have the exact moment of the General's birth, but he was born August 23rd, 1883, either in the extreme end of Leo or the first degree of Virgo. But regardless of the actual moment, General Wainwright partakes strongly of Leo, which gives him fine organizing and leadership ability and, this being the Mars decanate, he is especially adapted to lead a hopeless cause in a military adventure.

He approached his new responsibility just prior to the new Moon of March 15th, which banked up against the location of Mars in his birth chart. This indicated extreme emergency and the approaching of a crisis in his life, as signified by the transit of Neptune, also afflicting his Mars, the point of military action now so emphasized in his chart.

The Mars position is the same as Mars in President Roosevelt's chart, a very disturbed area in many charts at the present time, including that of the U. S. horoscope. This area continues under affliction until Neptune moves into Libra on October 1st, 1942.

This Mars position is one of the best fortified in the Wainright chart, for it receives the good sextile of Sun for will, purpose and might, united to clear and versatile thinking that produces quick and dynamic action.

A fortunate aspect of Venus destined General Wainright to be popular with those under his command. Venus conjunct Sun assured that he would both give and receive full loyalty in such a joint action as that of the delaying action so vital to U. S. arms that marks the events on Bataan and Corregidor.

He was handed a job that would have tried the soul of a lesser man than he, but no defeatism ever crept into his utterances from the time his chief told him goodbye on that fateful night back in March. He seemed to have supreme confidence in himself and his men, which is not to be wondered at when we note his Jupiter in Cancer, the U. S. Sun sign.

Jupiter hooks up with the trine of Uranus to Neptune, evidencing real administrative ability, supported by originality, inventiveness, scientific skill and inspiration. Next in order to these soldierly qualities in his character comes a deeply human sympathy toward his fellow men, and this sympathy was shown to have extended down to the lowest Philippine private on Bataan before the peninsula was lost to Japan.

With progressed Jupiter and Mars in Leo, it is little wonder that General Wainright and his doughty little remnant of an army continued the excellent delaying action entrusted to them by General MacArthur when the head of our nation called him away to a wider sphere of activity.

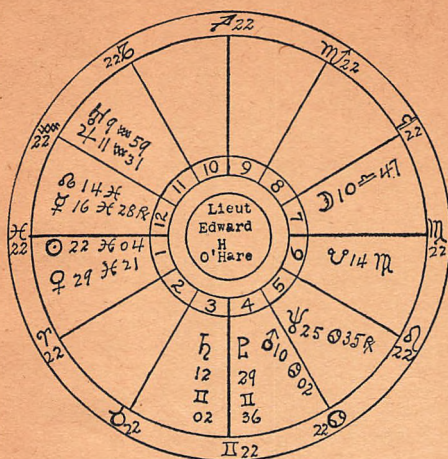

The Far East has aptly been called the "Cradle of American Heroes" and not the least of these will be General Wainright when this present world conflict has passed into history.

Lieutenant Commander O'Hare

On the evening of April 19th last, American radio listeners were thrilled by the voice of a man who had shot down six Japanese bombers in a single encounter. As the announcer questioned him, it was plain that we were listening to no blatant, boastful and conceited "lucky" hero. His answers were modest and as matter of fact as those you would use in discussing your method of caring for your little back-yard victory garden.

The men was Lieutenant Edward H. O'Hare, who on the following day received promotion to the grade of Lieutenant Commander, U.S.N. At the same visit to the President of the United States, he was decorated with the Congressional Medal of Honor, the highest award which can be conferred by our democratic country.

Lieutenant Commander O'Hare was born March 13th, 1914, when the Moon was in the air sign Libra in close good trine to Jupiter, in conjunction with Uranus. This spells success in flying, Uranus being most excellent in the natural aviation sign of Aquarius. Now add the "fortunes" of Jupiter, which not only makes traveling to distant places advantageous, but bring multiplicity into motion, and this equals quality in good results.

This would seem to be about all that could be desired in the chart of a flier who goes into action in a distant part of the globe, but this is not all the good auspices under which Aviator O'Hare arrived here on earth. Saturn in Gemini is linked up to this combination, making a grand trine of the air triplicity that is nature's way of producing an ideal aviator pattern. Thus Jupiter gives faith in himself, foresight, hope and an inclination toward taking chances with his life. Uranus gives originality, genius, technical application. Saturn provides organization of scientific knowledge, steady and well-controlled nerves and facile arm-hand-finger manipulation. Moon sponsors motion and travel. This makes Lieutenant Commander O'Hare an outstanding example of one who has succeeded in the line to which he was foreordained.

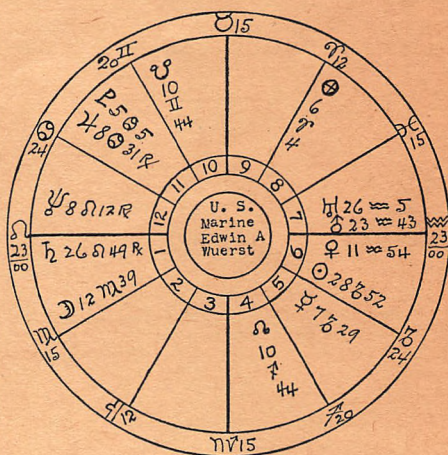

In the O'Hare chart, Moon is square Mars in Cancer, an affliction denoting danger in combat in the air over the water. Saturn in twelve degrees Gemini is in the same area as progressed Uranus in the U. S. Horoscope, an excited point indicative of the Jap surprise attack on the U. S., thus Aviator O'Hare is by fate linked with the destiny of his own land in this conflict.

Mars in Cancer at his birth sponsors him as a fighter of the first order for his country, as this is the locale of our national Sun. Progressed Mars in President Roosevelt's chart in 1942 is at place of U. S. Sun. There is therefore little wonder the President chose to decorate the new Lieutenant Commander in the White House.

Lieutenant Commander O'Hare is a Piscean of the Andrew Jackson type. He is therefore, although becomingly modest, not averse to speaking of himself to the public as he did during his pre-dedication broadcast, especially when he was argued into doing so by the assurance that his inspiration would be good for the morale of his country.

The greatest danger he now faces is the adverse square of Neptune, by transit, to Pluto in Gemini, which operates up to November 1st, 1942. If he escapes this threat—and it is our prediction that he will—he is the ideal type to take his place in public life on the victorious termination of the conflict to which he has already given more than the average thousand men in this war effort.

THE NATION

In June and July

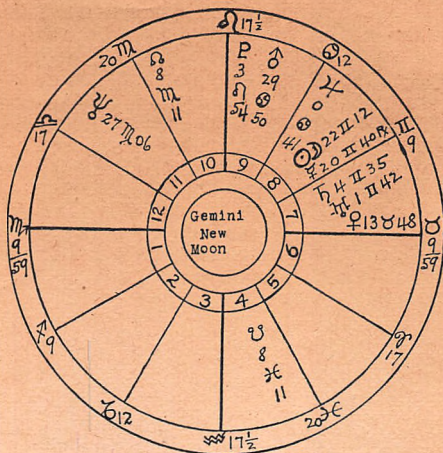

THE two most eventful months in the history of the world to date will be those of June and July, 1942. The Gemini new Moon of June 13th—in the zone of battle and death—at Washington, D. C., brings the sign of Scorpio—ruled by the war planet Mars—to the horizon.

Emphasis is given to submarine and naval warfare, with Mars and Pluto much in the forefront of planetary influences, stimulating all that pertains to convoys, foreign shipping and affairs, colonial localities being the main point of issue. We can expect American naval successes, with Mars moving through Cancer in the 10th houses of both the natal U. S. and Mars cycle charts.

American attention during the four weeks following June 13 shifts to completely distant scenes and contacts with distant and far-flung ports. The new Moon occurs at the place of natal Mars in the birth chart of our nation. This excites us into a frenzy of all-out action such as we have not achieved to date but, unfortunately, confusion and internal strife do much to rob us of the great results we could ordinarily expect from such a display of national energy. Congress and the administration suffer from some major disagreement, for Moon and Mercury are in a contentious relationship to Neptune, who is operative in the domain of Congress.

Admiral Isoroku Yamamoto of Japan, born April 4th, 1884 (Who's Who in Japan). Hopes to sign peace treaty in White House. Mortal enemy of President Roosevelt and the U.S.

Stressed by planetary attention is the matter of our supplies. Much public dissatisfaction and concern, with mounting publicity, arises because of the failure of Congress to realize the real situation inside our borders. A lack of co-ordination, bad spots of faulty management, failure to anticipate material requirements will be brought to the surface for public attention. Exaggeration of isolated cases of waste, loss, extravagance and deceit on the part of certain industries will add to the general furor. With Saturn—restriction—clinging to Uranus, curtailment of non-essential commodities will reach a point not foreseen by the general public at this time of writing (April 20) and resentment will spring up among the short-sighted who cannot see beyond this period of confusion.

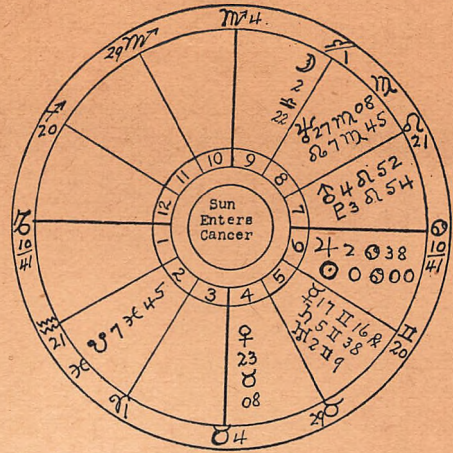

The Russian localities that saw such gigantic conflict in the summer of 1941 will get a repeat performance of the greatest magnitude, and suffering will now be multiplied because the war-weary soldiers will lack the supplies available last year, due to the strain of the past few months. The war spreads rapidly now, with hitherto unaffected areas feeling the sting of military occupation.

Having charted their mad course, the unholy firm of Hitler, Hirohito & Company cannot turn back, but the latter half of that combination may devoutly wish himself at peace with the Allied Nations once more. Saturn now lays a heavy hand on the little brown men from the "Flowery Kingdom" and misfortunes begin to follow swiftly, one after another. Local gains are made, and communication lines are lengthened with the acquisition of more territory, but deadly blows jolt them in vital spots. The Jap populace, spoiled by victorious news, are unprepared for these reverses. You need not be surprised if you read of prominent Jap figures departing from this earth via assassination or the revered but gory form of suicide known as hari kiri.

The Jap Emperor's chart is now nearing its end of good progressed Moon aspects that have signified much of the Nipponese conquest. Following July, 1942, there are no productive Moon progressed aspects in the Hirohito chart and there are some—particularly in August and September—that are all of the down-hill variety. This June 13th new Moon brings to a climax an eventful condition directly related to the charts of President Roosevelt and Hirohito. It is of a military and diplomatic nature, and will have a wide effect on the outcome of the war. A heavy clash with the U. S. chart at place of Mars shows in the Hitler chart following June 13th.

To retrogress for a moment, an astrological chart analysis of Singapore showed this part of the British Empire lost before the Japs even attacked. It fell with the new Moon of February 15th, 1942. The British commander on that ill-fated island was Lieutenant General Ernest Percival, born December 16th, 1887. He had a successful military record, but there was a distress-failure element in his horoscope on February 15th, showing that he was in no condition, free from an astrological viewpoint, to lead the defenders of the island. South Node (cup of sorrow and adversity) in the General's chart was eleven degrees Aquarius, the Nadir (land locality point) of Singapore.

Summer Solstice, June 21st, 1942, Washington, D. C., shows the governmental sign ascending, giving rule to the planet Saturn in the 5th house of Colonies. The Sun and Jupiter in the water and public sign Cancer operate in the 6th—military, workers, supplies and health. This implies national effort focused in these channels. Mars and Pluto conjoined in the 7th house (war) gives emphasis to conflict and titanic struggle. This should see large numbers of our soldiers in action at many different points of the globe. This Solstice influence carries through the summer months and, although heavy shipping losses are indicated, as a whole the period should bring some good productive results in cooperation with our allies.

The Cancer new Moon occurs on July 13th. The planetary pattern shows no letdown in military action except, of course, in the areas where monsoon storms make any extensive action too perilous to pay off in results.

Saturn now squares the Nodes in the U. S. chart, presaging heavy losses of military equipment that can seriously hamper our war effort for the following months. Farther and wider cooperation between the allies is sponsored by the administration and Congress—now in a strangely passive mood—concurs. Moon is now in the 6th house of military operations, supplies and labor of the U. S. natal chart but, unfortunately, in the

SAVED WHEN ATHENIA WAS TORPEDOED

By ELBERT BENJAMINE

President of The Church of Light

SEPTEMBER 3, 1939, the British Liner Athenia was 275 miles off the West Coast of Scotland, bound for Canada with 1,418 people aboard, including some 300 Americans whose only desire was to get away from a Europe now torn by war. While the second table was at dinner, suddenly the lights went out and the ceilings crumpled to the waterline. It was 7:15 p.m., when the Nazi torpedo struck the ship.

Some were killed by this first explosion and the crashing decks, and the others soon found themselves struggling in the oil smeared water. There was a heavy swell and bright moonlight. Lifeboats dotted the sea, some of them bottom up, with heroic seamen dragging women from the waves to safety. Some of the lifeboats right side up were crammed to the danger point, many of them filling with water in which the people sat wait deep, and one or two swamped in the effort to rescue still more.

Various ships receiving the SOS rushed to the scene and picked up the survivors, among whom were Pax Walker, born December 22, 1920, 12:24 a.m., OW. 51:32N.; and her mother, born June 19, 1882, hour unknown. Data was given by them personally to Lenora Conwell. The progressions around the outside of Pax Walker's chart are for the date of the torpedoing.

We have found that in accidents of violence progressed aspects to Mars always play an important part. So far we have never seen the chart of an aviator who cracked up who did not have an outstanding progressed aspect to Mars at the time. Our list of torpedoing victims is as yet small, but so far they fit into this Mars formula. Which means that a progressed aspect to Mars has a predisposition to attract accident, and is likely to do so if the resistance of environment to accident is small, or if the environment furnishes facilities for an accident.

It is the nature of progressed aspects to Uranus to attract unexpected and sudden events, through a human agency, which bring a marked change into the life. And the unexpected torpedoing of the ship on which one travels is both sudden enough and violent enough to be characteristic of progressed aspects to both Uranus and Mars. Progressed Mars in this chart is still conjunction progressed Uranus. Also progressed Mars is conjunction progressed Venus, ruling the personality (Ascendant) and inconjunct the Ascendant; and progressed Sun is semi-square both progressed Mars and progressed Venus.

In the mother's chart, progressed Mars is square Sun, sextile Venus and trine Pluto, while progressed Mercury is conjunction Mars. Venus is an exceptionally harmonious influence in her birth-chart, and no doubt the progressed sextile of Mars to Venus and the progressed trine of Mars to Pluto helped her to come through the harrowing experience alive.

But, having the hour of birth of the daughter, we can speak of her with greater certainty. In her chart we have the Moon in the house of death in luck (trine) aspect to Jupiter, the great protector. This birth-chart protective influence is accentuated at the time of the torpedoing by progressed ascendant being semi-sextile progressed Jupiter, and progressed Sun being only 1 degree 4 minutes from the perfect trine of progressed Jupiter. The influence of such

Astrology and War-Time Salesmanship

By A. J. HAWORTH

THE Arian salesman (March 21 to April 21), on account of his aggressive pioneering instincts, is perhaps the best sales promoter in the zodiac. His ability for introducing new items and opening up new territory is far above the average. His indomitable will, his sharp mind and active nature often lands him into the highest salary brackets. He is bold and courageous with enterprise enough to make a big thing out of what appears to be nothing. And his self esteem will lend a dignity to his bearing that will command respect where ever he goes.

The less developed Arian, and even the higher type to a lesser degree, is subject to a "fall" now and then because the fiery nature of the sign gives a tendency to brusqueness, overbearance and temper. No sale is ever made when either party loses his temper. Again, the Aries salesperson may allow his honest worthy self-esteem to turn to self-willfulness and overconfidence, especially if he has just put over a few big deals. Every type has its vulnerable spots, of course but the Arian must work very hard to overcome his on account of the terrific amount of force he generates.

Another thing for him to try to overcome is the inherit inclination to be impulsive and spontaneous. Many Arians who do not guard against this will rush headlong into a proposition with little consideration or preparation and the very force of the "charge" will knock them down if the way is not clear. This is totally unnecessary, with anyone but especially so with the Aries salesman for he has intense mental capacity and plenty of resourcefulness. Like fire he is diffusive, always on the offensive and energetic enough to apply his fiery ability to express himself. Truly he can go to the top in a hurry if he will but study his traits and put them to intelligent use.

Unless the native has a very strong placement, like say three or more planets heavily aspected in a sign other than Aries, he will do better selling metals especially having to do with construction work such as buildings, bridges, ships, automobiles, airplanes, etc. And the field in this line was never more active in the history of the U.S. He may also deal in surgical instruments and military equipment, two other very fertile fields. We know an Arian who has sold farm implements for many years. He will work himself into a lather over a tractor and sell it through force of his enthusiasm and can actually tear it apart and put it together, and although he does not know the first thing about agriculture and isn't even interested his sales talk comes direct from his heart.

The Arian, as stated before does better in pioneer work and should concentrate on opening up virgin territory with new or old items, covering a very large territory. If a retailer naturally, hardware stores and the above mentioned businesses are for him.

Now let us have a glance at the influence of the houses in sales work. The zodiac is the heavenly division of the horoscope and the houses divide the earth affairs into 12 parts the whole of which includes every thing that man may be connected with while on earth. The listing that follows is not complete but with the most important affairs shown it will not be difficult to place most anything in the proper house:

1st house—Personality, physical body and inherited traits. All planets have their strongest influence here. And especially is this true of the sun, moon and mars. And doubly so with Aries people. This is Aries' house and the Sun is exalted here, Mars rules Aries and the Moon is reflected sunlight.

2nd house—Money by personal effort and personal property. 3rd. house — Avocations, brothers and sisters, writings, short journeys and conscious mind. 4th. house—Mother, home, lands and mines. 5th house—Children, love affairs, pleasures, games and gambling. 6th house—Service, servants and health. 7th—marriage and partnership. 8th wills, death and legacies. 9th—religion,

The ASTROLOGY of HANDWRITING

By MARY ADAMS LLOYD

(This is the first of three articles showing how the Horoscope indicates why you write as you do.)

IF you went up to one of your friends and asked him "Why are you so selfish?" or "What makes you so ready to pick a quarrel with everyone?" or make this remark: "I would not believe you if you swore on a stack of Bibles a mile high." How long would they remain your friends? Yet if you knew how to interpret handwriting, your action might be more a lack of tact than an actual insult. Nobody takes up a pen and deliberately writes, "I am a liar and you should not believe what I am telling you." In refusing a donation, no one writes "I am too selfish to care about your old charity." Yet these and many other facts are easily seen in a person's handwriting. You cannot take up a pen or a pencil and write even a word without revealing something of your character.

Of late there seems to be a generally increasing interest in handwriting. From time to time different newspapers run hand-writing features. Those I have seen are very good. These newspaper graphologists always use the signature of some well-known public character, so the reader can tell whether the analysis is correct. This corresponds to telling about an event after it happens. The real value of handwriting analysis is to reveal the character of someone you do not know. This is the reason that many firms require an applicant to describe his qualifications in his own handwriting. Some firms ask the birth data so that a chart can be set up. The most interesting fact about grapho-analysis is that it always reveals the true character of the person and never contradicts the testimony of the Horoscope.

If an astrological chart shows extravagance, so does the handwriting. If the chart shows repression, so does the handwriting. If the chart shows high spiritual characteristics, or low sensual ones, the writing will also show these qualities. But it must always be stressed that one cannot read the future from handwriting. It is a means of character analysis only. Only as character affects the actions of a person can his reaction under certain conditions be foretold. If his handwriting shows that he is untruthful, then it is certain that, given the appropriate conditions, he will lie. If you can see in a man's handwriting that he is acquisitive, then it is up to you to see that he does not get the best of you, and give you a bad bargain.

In Astrology the houses, the planets and the aspects as well as many other factors have to be considered. In Grapho-analysis the slant of the letters, the heaviness of the stroke, the margins, the distance between the lines, the loops, the crossings of the "t's" and the dotting of the "i's" are a few of the important characteristics to be noted. When you get a letter from some one you do not know, or know only slightly, you unconsciously notice the paper, the spelling and punctuation, the margins and general neatness. Possibly you note whether the writing is full of curves or full of angles; whether the capitals are simple or ornate. You may notice these things, but do you know what they mean? The paper, spelling and punctuations are matters of education and refinements; and you do not have to know either Astrology or Graphology to know the social class to which the writer belongs. The margins, the space between the lines, and the size of the writing are purely Jupiter-Saturn characteristics. Large writing, wide margins, big spaces between the lines are entirely Jupiterian. The more Jupiter is afflicted in the natal chart, the larger the writing and the wider the spaces. In other words, when a chart shows extravagance, the hand writing also shows it.

On the other hand, if the writing is small and cramped, the margins narrow and very little space between the lines, look for a strong Saturn influence in the chart. These, of course, are general characteristics, and may be modified by other planets in the chart, just as it is possible for a person to have one sign on the Ascendant and yet have a physical appearance more like some other sign. I have never found that there is a distinct Libra, Capricorn or Gemini writing as many writers claim, by which the Ascendant may be found. My experience has been that — where the strength of the chart lies, there is the power that guides the hand in writing. For example, if Saturn is on the Ascendant, a dozen Jupiters could not make him write expansively. Likewise if Jupiter is on the cusp of the first house, square the Sun, the most powerful Saturn could not make the handwriting repressed, pinched and small. Suppose that there is no planet in the first house and there is a Sun-Jupiter square in another part of the chart, this aspect will act just the same. Some of my readers will remember what Max Heindel says about Sun square Jupiter: "This gives a bombastic, haughty disposition with an inordinate love of display" and no matter where Saturn is he cannot curb this. While, if Saturn is square the Sun anywhere in the chart (to quote again) he "Has a tendency to crawl into a shell" and even a benevolent Jupiter cannot get him out.

I have often said and written that a person's Horoscope could be called the blue print of his life; his Numeroscope might be called his itinerary; but his handwriting is his soul drawing its own picture. As a man thinketh in his heart, so does he write.

Briefly let me define, in a very general way, the different types of handwriting. This is only as valuable in analyzing individuals as studying his Sun sign would be. It is merely a broad classification.

ARIES gives a hurried, impulsive writing usually rather angular.

TAURUS writing is conservative, with no frills or curves. This may be labored and plodding if the person is uneducated; it may look heavy and muddy if the person is an over-sensual Taurean; or it may be merely restrained and dignified, if the person is educated.

GEMINI writing, if typical, is full of inconsequential flourishes, different slants, and shows lack of coordination.

scribe. It seldom has any "style"; it is flowing, timid formless, due to the watery character of Cancer and the changefulness of its ruler, Moon.

LEO writing, when typical, is large, bold, self-confident and usually rounded and has an expansive air.

VIRGO writing is always precise with well-formed letters and usually has a methodical appearance.

LIBRA writing is always artistic, well balanced and rhythmic; often delicate and usually full of curves.

SCORPIO, when running true to form, is full of pointed darts and angles. The "i" is "darted" instead of "dotted"; and the "t" crossings are spear-shaped, like the arrows of Mars.

SAGITTARIUS often gives a handwriting that is "high, wide and handsome" with large capitals and often runs up hill in an optimistic way. The loops are generous and the "t" crossings long.

CAPRICORN writing always looks thrifty; is plain, with no flourishes; and never wastes any space. It is always controlled and quite often small with the lines close together.

AQUARIUS has an educated appearance and is more expanded than Capricorn writing. Many times there is a cosmic swing which denotes wide interest.

PISCES is always emotionally slanted. The lines are usually long and flowing like the waves of the ocean; with long terminals or long beginning strokes. The individual letters often have a Neptunian contraction which suggests a lack of frankness.

These are the general influences of the signs, but are only "types," as the Sun in the various signs indicates types only. As planets, houses and aspects modify the horoscope, so do they modify the handwriting. In the analyses of charts later on, we shall see how this is shown. But first let us take a brief look at the influence of the different planets.

The SUN tends to make the writing bold and heavy.

The MOON gives flowing letters, usually graceful.

VENUS is always artistic, and can be called "pretty."

MARS always shows sharp angles and jabs.

MERCURY is usually uncoordinated, slanting this way and that, suggesting the Gemini changefulness.

JUPITER usually makes the writing large and bold.

SATURN always gives a pinched look; usually small and conservative.

URANUS, like Mars gives spears, angles, jabs, and a generally impulsive look.

YOUR MYSTIC LIFE

ESP Department

Staff-Conducted by CHRISTINA DAHL, Associate Editor, TODAY'S ASTROLOGY. Address letters to 3041 N. Kolmar Ave., Chicago, Illinois.

What is ESP? Does everyone possess psychic perception, occult powers? Can these mysterious abilities be developed? Used at will? How can you gain information not available to the physical senses? Send and receive thoughts from a distance? How is it possible to foresee events before they happen. Or, "see" things happening at a distance? Are there authentic instances of the dead communicating with the living?

These are but a few of the many vital questions with which this department will deal. In each issue of TODAY'S ASTROLOGY we will present your real-life experiences with psychic phenomena, conduct tests or tell you how to conduct your own to determine your psychic ability, and will present material based upon modern researches in this fascinating field, correlated with Astrology.

Have you ever had a prophetic dream? A clairvoyant, telepathic or other psychic experience? PLEASE WRITE US ABOUT IT, and be sure to state if we may publish your letter.

TELEPATHIC POST CARD

Dear Miss Dahl: One summer 12 years ago I was walking from the mail box to the house with the day's mail in my hands. I "saw" the correspondence side of a picture post card and on it was a message in my aunt's handwriting that they (her family) were coming for a visit. The thought in my mind was that Dad had gotten that card the day before. This thought was abruptly replaced by another. There had been no word from them of any kind for months! How silly of me to day-dream like that! But the thought persisted in popping into mind every day for a week. Then my aunt and her husband drove into our yard late one afternoon. She told us she had planned to write a card and then changed her mind, hoping to surprise us.

(Miss) Mae G. Carstens
Jennings, Kansas

This is one of the most common kind of ESP (extra-sensory-perceptive) experience, involving thought-transference (telepathy) between two individuals. In this case, as in most, telepathy was spontaneous, or accidental. Many a hostess could wish for the ESP ability to give warning of the unexpected guest!

"MENTAL RADIO" WARNING

Dear Christina Dahl: The storm came suddenly, with terrific force, a veritable deluge that washed out bridges, caused a landslide, disabled all but radio communication. Mother and I were in our country cottage awaiting the arrival of my fiancée, who was driving down to visit us. An hour before I had talked to her long distance, and since the weather had then been fine, had told her to take a certain short cut instead of the main highway, which would save almost ten miles. She had never been here before. Now the storm had made the short-cut so perilous we feared for my fiancée's life. Radio warnings were being broadcast to motorists to stay on the main highway, but alas, no radio in my sweetheart's car, no way of warning her. I remembered I had not even told her the main highway went past our place! My car was in the village being repaired. No transportation—no way of intercepting her. Running full speed in the rain-lashed night, I would not reach the cross-roads until hours too late. Only one thing to do—and Mother and I did it together: We prayed that the Almighty would for one little moment give us the power to tell Ellen—"Stay on the main highway." An hour later, she drove in, safe and sound, but shaken by the first "psychic" experience of her life. Before the fork in the road, she had "seen" a flash of Mother and I and "heard" the warning we were so desperately praying would reach her. This was my only ESP experience.

J. E. Mathers
San Jose, California

This ESP experience, involving deliberate thought-transference on the part of the "senders," is somewhat less common than the preceding one, tending to be associated with more serious crises of life. Like other types of ESP ability, thought-transference (and thought reception) can be developed, through proper training and persistent practice, (Please turn to page 58)

LOOKING AHEAD

For Those Born May 12-June 20

Gemini Gets the Spotlight!

LOOKING at the notable array of planets in Gemini on June 1st in this eventful year (see chart) it is clear that more than the ordinary happenings are registered on the dial of the Cosmic clock for your sign in this and the following months.

From henceforth major issues become the order of the day both in your personal and business life, which will be much influenced by governmental agencies, national requirements, war and the disturbed world situation.

Our planet earth is now in a state of upheaval which is slated to arouse all communities and most individuals here on this earth. We are in the same state as that of a community of ants after a boot heel has kicked the ant-hill into smithereens. Actually we seem to know just about as little of the cause of this turmoil as the ants under similar conditions. After all the centuries of religious teachings, and just at the time when our intelligentia are expanding with a vast superiority complex, a small group of international gangsters attack our modern civilization with all the con-

Gemini

He is the goldentongued interpreter, Whose word speaks harmony where chaos reigned;
His mind, a gem whose rainbow-tinted rays
Bridge space and bring fair freight of

The winds would rove uncharted should he fail,
And darkness veil the archetypal Plan Should he not raise the torch whose light imparts
His own adventurous liberty to man.

Forever young, he flings his casements wide
On airy turrets of the world to be,
And rises on the wings of thought to tread
The threshold of eternal verity.

fusing and devastating effects of the small boy attacking an ant hill with his shovel.

All this centers around a very important consideration—that with the reforming planet, Uranus in Gemini, your own sign of concrete mind, study and instruction, for seven long years—1942-49—we are due as a people to garner some real academic and religious knowledge the hard way, with nature as the teacher. We have had seven years of financial and economic instruction under nature's method of experience and are ending up with a demolition process in which forces among us are attempting to destroy all of the earth's valuable surface products, so essential to culture and all that distinguishes us from the animals.

Those born under Taurus, or with planets emphasized in Taurus have had the operating and directing hand during the past seven years. President Roosevelt's chart has four major planets—Saturn, Neptune, Jupiter and Pluto—in Taurus, in his department of law, politics and foreign world affairs. Hitler was born under the sign Taurus, with Mars and Venus in this sign. We could name dozens more of examples but this will suffice.

Saturn-Uranus: Unusual Experiences

THE Zodiacal sign Cancer—although to a slightly lesser degree than it's neighbor sign Cancer, has a preeminence in the year ahead, beginning July, 1942, and will play a vital role in this eventful period. There is a double significance: first, the Saturn-Uranus occupancy of Gemini and Jupiter's position in your own sign. Second, Gemini is a natal Uranus area and Cancer is the birth sign of the U. S. foundational map. Thus all that pertains to Gemini and Cancer rulership comes to the fore.

Persons and the elements make up what we accept as our earth-plane existence. Such circumstances and events as we experience are due to conditions produced by people, elemental forces (earth, water, air, heat) or the two combined as prevails today in our combined political-economical struggle. Those born under Gemini and Cancer, or who were born when planets were in these two signs, are due for an added measure of activity in the various channels in which they operate or according to the status in the sphere of life under which they live.

All of which boils down to a timely suggestion that you Cancer natives get your affairs in order and prepare to take your place in the new world growth and culture that will be made possible through the spreading of the "four freedoms" all over the world. Cancer is essentially the sign of home and family, with interests that extend from there, as the center, to the public or populace. Your duty, then, as a Cancer native, is the security of the home and family, which naturally depends on world conditions. So you home-loving Cancer folk must now widen your scope of interest somewhat, realizing that the mere caring for your own will not solve your problems. You must help to make it the kind of world in which your family can live in safety and happiness.

This will assume the proportions of a major test for some of you. You have all heard of the man who knelt to pray each night and used these words: "Dear God, bless me, my wife, my son John

JUPITER

And Your Progress

By FRANK J. McCARTHY

MONEY, good fortune, opportunity and tangible rewards are identified with the mighty planet Jupiter. This celestial orb has the most influence on your job, business, and general accomplishment.

Jupiter transits the entire Zodiac in a dozen years at the rate of about one sign a year. He returns to his original position in your horoscope approximately every twelve years, although at different times you feel his power when he forms favorable or discordant aspects to sensitive angles in your birth chart.

It should be of interest to you to understand his influence in your affairs, and fascinating to calculate and interpret his current relationship to your Sun Sign. Having completed his year long journey through Gemini, Jupiter unfolds for you many interesting and important astrological aspects while he sojourns in the Water Sign Cancer between June 11, 1942 and June 30, 1943.

Here are the interpretations according to your Sun Sign:

For Aries

The inability to collect money that someone owes you may bother you, due to the square of Jupiter to your Sign. Don't delude yourself by attempting to convert these debts into assets. Instead of worrying about such sums, make up your mind not to get caught in the same net again.

Don't try to sell merchandise to anyone who has persistently turned you down. Build up another list of customers. There are plenty of new prospects and new opportunities.

A new tide is coming into your affairs. Even if more responsibility is heaped upon you than you bargained for, don't complain. The good, cash and otherwise, should soon outweigh the extra duties.

For Taurus

The influence of Jupiter in your Third Solar House will give you new courage about money and business. Search the remote sources of profit. It should lead you to discoveries that will be of inestimable value in your occupation, and yield surprising additional revenue.

Now, not next year, is the time to make a persistent effort to win what you want. Your plans may be worked out precisely as you wish, yielding unexpected compensations. The coming year should be an amazing cycle for you.

For Gemini

Jupiter's occupation of your Second Solar House which rules money inspires you to excel in whatever you undertake, so that you are encouraged to earn more to gratify your wish for ostentation. Spurred by this ambition, your work will be of good quality and your progress steady. No matter how well you did in the past, what you do this year will surpass your previous success.

Present your ideas and hopes to anyone who can possibly be of assistance. You may discover the chance to earn money through a mail order business which you can conduct from your home with a modest investment and little work.

For Cancer

Your Sign will be occupied by Jupiter until June 30, 1943, so you will feel both enthusiastic and important. For a while life will seem like a romantic story while Fate showers you with magic gifts. But don't be misled by wishful thinking and casual opinions. Get down to basic facts. Make a thorough survey of each situation confronting you. With Saturn and Uranus in your Solar Twelfth House, your business course will require clever navigation to keep you out of economic shoals.

The effect on you of these multiple aspects will vary. Sometimes you will want to move with lightning speed. At other times you will feel slow and repressed. Yet at the same time you will have to cope with changing conditions and viewpoints.

But in the process there are all sorts of opportunities for prosperity. Among them are included government work, education, publicity.

For Leo

Jupiter in your Twelfth Solar House shows the need for building up a re-

EXPEDIENT GEMINI

Dear Christina Dahl: I am at my wit's end, about to give up the struggle for trying to hold my Gemini husband. We have been married four years, happily, I thought, until I found he has had a mistress for more than two of those years. I forgave him, when he promised to give her up. I felt sorry for the girl, she had not known he had a wife, till I confronted her. She promised to give him up. Now I find both have broken their promises to me. He tells me he loves me. Yet he swears to the girl that he loves her. Which of us does he really love? Is he staying with me because I happen to be fairly well fixed financially (he has used my money, car, summer home, etc., for entertaining this girl)? Shall I force him to live on his own small income? Our birthdates are (deleted)—which please keep confidential.

MRS A. V. B., ILLINOIS.

You are a Sagittarian, Mrs. B., and your husband's astrological opposite. Because you have not understood him (any more than he has understood you), you have innocently, and unwittingly done things which tended to bring out his less desirable characteristics. As, for example, in the matter of money. Out of the noblest motives, a sincere desire to help him, you were generous to the point where you almost destroyed his self-reliance. When a woman thus weakens a man, it does something to his pride, he knows himself lessened in her eyes, and his love for her suffers. At such a time it is unusual for a man to turn to another woman, in whose admiration he finds himself more of a man. That is how this affair began, Mrs. B.

Your Gemini husband is a bit expedient. Unwittingly, you have contributed to this characteristic. Yet, if you have the courage to seek the truth and face it, your discontinuing your financial allowance to him will soon tell you whether he loves you, or the girl involved. By all means put this plan into practice immediately, and you will find the situation definitely crystallizing one way or another. As you did not include the girl's birth data, it is not possible to determine where Mr. Gemini's strongest attraction lies. Good luck to you, Friend.

TEMPORARY INCOMPATIBILITY

Dear Miss Dahl: Lately my wife and I seem to be so intolerant and impatient with each other. We have been married seven years, and always got along well, loving each other dearly, until just recently. Will this pass, or are we just finding out we were not meant for each other after all? I was born May 19, 1912. She, June 29, 1913. Thank you. We are steady readers of your fine column in TODAY'S ASTROLOGY.

T. E. S., KANSAS.

You and the Mrs. are well mated, Mr. S. You are just going through a cycle of temporary incompatibility of the kind which sooner or later must momentarily dim the luster of the most perfect of unions. Old man Saturn, that great warrior, is raising a rumpus in your Union Chart right now, inclining both of you to see the more negative (Saturnian) things about each other. By the middle of this June you two will be more tolerant, patient, considerate, more your better selves, optimistic and cooperative; and the wheels of matrimony again will roll with well-oiled efficiency!

ARIES - - June - July

For Those Born March 21-April 19

★ The first three weeks of June would be fine for an early vacation.

THE social period mentioned in our April-May issue as beginning for you Arians during the last days of May continues through the first three weeks of June. Now you are sociably inclined but in a far deeper way than refers to mere social snobbery or idle pleasures. You want to help others, to teach them and bring them up to your mental and spiritual plane. You are well fitted to do this now, as your mind is resourceful and creative. You enjoy popularity among your relatives and can make your associations with them mutually beneficial. Choose learned and refined companions now. Travel is well aspect-ed, and it would be a good time to take your vacation.

From June 22nd to June 23rd, inclusive, finances are likely to claim your attention almost to the exclusion of other activities. Oh, you'll retain a lively interest in occult science, such as Astrology and Numerology, but even this will be in connection with your financial indications. Your judgment in money matters is good and you may be able to find some rare opportunities for profit. This is a good period for dealing in land, real estate and all tangible property, this being true even though you haven't sufficient capital to buy or sell for yourself. You'd be good at getting others together on such trades and making a commission by doing so.

June 24 ushers in an interesting and inspiring period, and one with a strong "luck" element for you. More of this in our August-September issue.

Aries Daily Guide For June

Mon. June 1: A neutral day to begin the month. You're popular, but this means little because no cosmic strength backs you and gives you the force you need for any big undertaking. Better retire early to avoid scandal.

Tues. June 2: A fine, strong morning. You could get help or good advice from a influential woman, or you could pull strings successfully if you want defense work, but complete everything before noon. Late afternoon good for visiting.

Wed. June 3: Early morning brings some unexpected good fortune through friends or associates if you act to deserve it. Should come through young folk or women.

Thur. June 4: Late morning is good for dealing with friends or for any kind of group work. You could organize some patriotic group to advantage or function in one already formed today. You are popular and impress others now.

Fri. June 5: No day for contacts. Work or study quietly and as much alone as possible. Keep your mind off the other sex this afternoon, avoid indiscretions.

Sat. June 6: Rather negative. Aspects are mixed, and the Moon in your 12th house upsets your mind and emotions. The other sex is "poison" today and evening.

Sun. June 7: Neutral, and you lack force, but you're popular and make a good impression. Try to get out among people, but don't try bossing others now.

Mon. June 8: Another slow one until around early evening, at which time you are forceful and impressive as well as popular. Try to arrange a dinner or gathering.

Tues. June 9: Early-morning aspects strengthen your vitality and your personality. Get out and demand things and you'll just about have your way in all reasonable requests. This force is dissipated later in the morning, so act fast.

Wed. June 10: Neutral. Start no new ventures, ask for no favors today.

Thur. June 11: From noon through afternoon is excellent for employment affairs or for catering to the public in any way. Good also for loans, credits, etc.

Fri. June 12: A rather doubtful morning, but afternoon finds you at your best mentally. You are restless and ambitious. Let this guide you and urge you to any self-betterment that seems indicated. Good for moves, changes, travel.

Sat. June 13: Late afternoon much like yesterday. Hold all important contacts until then and go ahead with confidence. Good for meeting new people.

Sun. June 14: A fine morning for getting out, going to church or for an outing. You are popular, knowing when to say and do just the right thing.

Mon. June 15: Neutral. Home affairs claim your interest but confine all action on them to planning. No time for important decisions or actions.

Tues. June 16: Mid-afternoon brings your best time. Use it to attend to any business regarding the family or home property. A good time to buy or deal in real estate or any tangible property. Some good comes through family members.

Wed. June 17: Daylight and evening hours largely neutral. Good for innocent fun especially with children, but not good for gambling or love-making.

Thur. June 18: This could be an inspiring and stimulating early morning. If you have any reason to speculate, complete everything before 10:00 a.m.

Fri. June 19: Aspects are varied. No cosmic strength to back you. Stay away from the other sex or be careful what you say. Don't gamble in any way today.

Sat. June 20: Make this a quiet day and as restful as possible. If you feel even the slightest indisposition take to your bed this afternoon.

Sun. June 21: Serve others in some way today, but don't overstrain either your body or mind in doing it, for a nervous or digestive upset is threatened.

Mon. June 22: A neutral day, but evening promises romance for those who are in line for it. There is some chance that a friendship will turn into romance.

Tues. June 23: Another good evening for Arians who have been living alone and not liking it. Someone could come into your life and bring happiness along.

Wed. June 24: Mars squares your 8th-house

Moon this morning. Use caution all day.

Thur. June 25: A very good day for all partnership affairs. Good comes through the one closest in your life now, either in a marriage or business way.

Fri. June 26: Late morning brings your best hour. Good for making heavy decisions or changes. Fine for correspondence so if an important letter is pending, write.

Sat. June 27: A negative day. Avoid arguments on war, politics, religion.

Sun. June 28: Another trying one, especially in the morning. You are subject to criticism if not actual discredit and scandal. Be discreet in all things.

Mon. June 29: A good afternoon. You appear well in public and some good publicity comes your way if you try for it. Good for sales, contacts, job-getting.

Tues. June 30: Morning brings something good through friends, co-workers or associates. Get out and ask for help if you need it and you'll get it surely.

Aries Daily Guide For July

Wed. July 1: A neutral day. You're popular with those in your circle, but not sufficiently so to ask for favors. Better keep your secrets to yourself today.

Thur. July 2: Rather negative until afternoon, at which time you vibrate well with friends, women and young people. Try to make this work for you in some way.

Fri. July 3: Your mind works at cross purposes with everyone around you today. Stay alone or keep quiet and don't act on your rather weird hunches now.

Sat. July 4: A fine morning for the holiday. You could appear to advantage in connection with the observance of the day. Get out and mix around today.

Sun. July 5: Neutral until evening. If you're in a group then you'll be popular and enhance your social prestige in some way. Don't be bashful.

Mon. July 6: No aspects. Go on your own today and stick to routine.

Tues. July 7: Probably a slow, troublesome day. Beat this influence by tackling only sure and easy things. Don't try for loans or other favors now.

Wed. July 8: Sun sextiles your 2nd-house Moon this morning. Good for all that concerns your job. Arian wives and mothers can get favors from the family.

Thur. July 9: Doubtful. You want change and betterment, but you're not mentally capable of effecting them to your advantage. Stay put and don't talk too much.

Fri. July 10: Much better this morning. Go ahead and make changes with confidence. Short trips on business pay you now. Some adjustment is promised if you're not satisfied the way things are going. This could be in work or residence.

Sat. July 11: Late morning is your best time. Good for starting a trip, or for an appointment with someone who is in a position to help you. Do this if indicated.

Sun. July 12: A very good Sunday, especially in the home, or in affairs of the heart if you're single. Fine for reviving romantic feelings between you and your mate if you're married. Some good comes through the family now.

Mon. July 13: Good for decisions, activities and deals that concern the home or home property. Rentals, leases, home purchases should be attended to this a.m.

Tues. July 14: An excellent day if you can get off the grind and get out, and a good and inspiring one even if you have to work. You're popular, witty, gay.

Wed. July 15: Neutral until evening, when you should get out and have some fun. The other sex likes you and you feel the same way. Laugh, be gay and young.

Thur. July 16: Keep away from the other sex if you can this evening. No day for gambling, speculating or for extravagant spending or overdoing in anything.

Fri. July 17: A slow day, with some danger of physical upset in late afternoon or early evening. Eat sensibly, exercise mildly and guard your health.

Sat. July 18: Doubtful, except for early afternoon, which would be a good time to do someone a favor, or to do some free work for Uncle Sam if you have the chance.

Sun. July 19: Largely neutral until afternoon, when your judgment of the other sex is unsound and you could be sweet-talked into doing something you'll rue later.

Mon. July 20: Good for all partnerships and cooperative affairs, and especially good for romances or forming new partnerships in the evening.

Tues. July 21: Evening is especially good for occult study and the application of Astrology to your problems. Read your guide and the Aspectarian ahead and plan your affairs accordingly. A visit with a professional astrologer would help.

Wed. July 22: If any partnership adjustments are pending, attend to them this morning. Good for all sound financial deals. Push legal matters now.

Thur. July 23: Morning good for mental and creative work, correspondence, travel. Be quiet this evening and don't air your unorthodox ideas to others.

Fri. July 24: No aspects. Stick to safe routine today.

Sat. July 25: You may suffer from an upset mind. Don't act on your hunches.

Sun. July 26: Neutral. Pursue usual quiet Sunday routine. Rest, relax.

Mon. July 27: Variable. Evening good for gatherings, public appearances.

TAURUS - - June - July

For Those Born April 20-May 20

★ Hard work and service win for you during the first days of June.

THE period which began for you Taurians in May and extends through the first three weeks of June is one of subordination and assiduous work. If there was ever a time in your life that you could win through hard work and service, this is it. Your chief gains comes through the gratitude you earn from your superiors. And because of your sincere and helpful attitude you are likely to be given heavier responsibilities and some authority, although the latter will probably be well down the scale and you'll still be subordinate to others. But it is at such times as this that wise Taurians start stepping up toward real leadership in their life's work.

From June 22nd to July 23 you are blessed with fine mental capabilities, and are desirous of helping others through your clear thinking and the knowledge you have gained. This is a fine period in which to travel either on business or pleasure, and fine for making new friends and social conquests. About your only danger would be discredit because of letters you write or promises you make. Avoid a too proud and haughty attitude toward your inferiors. You could gain some prestige or local honor because of something your mind evolves, thus good for invention, creative writing, etc. You are cautioned against wasting your mental efforts in trying to advise those who are too crass to appreciate it.

The last week in July promises financial gain if you knuckle down to hard thinking on your problems and then act on your ideas. More of this in our next issue as the period extends into August.

GEMINI - - June - July

For Those Born May 21-June 20

★ Avoid extravagant entertaining from June 22nd to July 23rd.

TRY TO use every day of the period which began for you Gemini natives on May 21st and lasts through the first three weeks of June. You are generous to a fault now, because you can afford to be. Your mind is keen and active, and your self-confidence causes people to defer to you. Your motives are lofty and you have the respect of those above you in the social and financial scale. If you are in a financial or social contest you fight strongly and efficiently. You can now get good publicity if you seek it, and some advancement should come to you at your work or in your social circle.

June 22 ushers in a period of hard work, with compensating advances if you act to merit them. As was the case last month you gain through superiors and if you have elderly male relatives living they can and will help you in anything you undertake. You are highly sociable and inclined toward pleasure in association with others. This could lead to an unwise extravagance, so guard yourself against your impulses to spend rashly. All in all this is a grand period for those of you who are willing to work for what you get, although it is no time for speculation or looking for easy money. If you are after work of some kind in connection with our war effort, this is a good time to try for it—especially if you can get elderly males to use their influence for you.

July 24 is the beginning of a fine mental period in which you will both learn and teach others. More of this in our August-September issue as this period extends well into August. Watch for it.

LEO - - June - July

For Those Born July 23-August 22

★ Be friendly with co-workers during the first days of June.

THE period of warm friendships and social success which began for you Leo folk on May 21st carries through the first three weeks of June. If you wish to attune yourself to this period—and of course you do—adopt a friendly attitude toward your equals and develop your natural spirit of loyalty to your superiors or those who can help you. Your popularity is assured during this period and you should be an outstanding social success. If you'll shake off any spirit of bashfulness you may feel and approach with confidence those who are slightly above you in finances or the social scale you will find yourself identified with a successful group of people and well on the way to a new success of your own.

June 22nd ushers in a period of seclusion or semi-seclusion when your best work is done alone and your greatest gains come through your own mental processes. Your occult and psychic tendencies come to the fore now, and you are capable of exploring your own mind and, to a degree at least, your subconscious. This would be a good time to study Miss Dahl's ESP department and if you haven't the back issues for a review obtain them. If you have contemplated work in an institution of any nature, this is the time to begin it. Quiet study or experiment in inventive lines prospers for those fitted for it. Seek for no publicity during this period; don't push yourself forward.

July 24th begins a fine period which brings you out among people in a favorable light. More of this in our next issue as it extends well into August.

VIRGO - - June - July

For Those Born August 23-Sept. 22

★ If you support aged parent, the burden could lighten during June.

SUN influences from your 10th solar house which began operation on May 21st continue through until June 22nd. This Sun position, if taken advantage of by you Virgo folk, can bring an advancement of your prestige, probably some unusual honor and your full share of financial success. Those of you with living parents can expect some help from them, or at least a lightening of any burden they have been to you if they are not self supporting. The favor of your superiors is promised if you work for others. If you are identified with our war program in any way you should receive some notice from higher up, if not, and if you seek such work, this is a good time to get it.

June 22 introduces a period which endures until July 24, and which brings friendships to the fore in your life and affairs. Now if you have chosen your friends wisely you'll find their loyalty unquestioned, find them willing to help you and use their influence in your behalf. This is true especially of those for whom you may be working, or whose opinion of you can "make or break you." A great many of these gains come about through the working of planetary influences on your own personality and inclinations. Your ambitions and desires are lofty, you are dignified without being pompous. You are loyal to others, honest and sincere in your motives. There is little that you cannot accomplish during this period if you set your mind to it.

July 24th ushers in a period of secluded effort, quiet work, investigation and study, with a tendency toward occultism and philosophical theories, but you'll learn more of this period, which rightly belongs to August, in our next issue.

SAGITTARIUS - - June - July

For Those Born Nov. 22-Dec. 21

★ Early June days bring romance if you're eligible.

JUNE, the month of romance! It will be that, during the first three weeks at least, for many of you Sagittarius folk. It is our sincere wish that every single and lonely Sagittarian might find his or her mate during this period. Even outside the field of romance, this period offers happy partnerships. Old tenderness could be revived between you and your mate if you're already married. Even work and business partnerships come under this suspicious influence, and the forming of new partnerships is recommended for all of your sign. We'd like to elaborate on this because your own individual efforts are rather weak now unless merged with those of another. Your popularity will help you in getting help where needed, and you're especially popular with business people and superiors.

From June 22nd to July 23rd is another partnership period, but this applies to already-formed partnerships and unions rather than recommending new ones. You should watch the Aspetarian closely during this period for there is danger of rashness and recklessness on your part during critical aspects, especially aspects of the Sun. There is some likelihood of the successful outcome of litigation on wills and legacies during this period if you are in line for it. In fact, this is a good period to push legal matters of all kinds.

July 24th begins a period of intellectual and spiritual development as well as popularity and social success. More of this in our next issue.

CAPRICORN - - June - July

For Those Born Dec. 22-Jan. 19

★ The first three weeks of June are good for dealing with employees, servants.

IT IS A WELL known adage in occultism that you get out of life just about what you put into it, and the period which began for you Capricornians on May 21st and which continues through the first three weeks of June is a very good example of this. Your keynote during this period is service. Service to your country in a patriotic way, service to the poor and ailing around you, service to your employer or to your family if you are a Capricorn wife and mother—this is what brings your gains now. It is a good period if you are employed by others, especially if your work has to do with our war program, for your efforts will bring recognition from the higher-ups. A good time also for dealing with employees.

A late June marriage is a strong probability for many of you single Capricorns. Romance is in the air and we hope it comes your way if you are single and eligible. If a wedding is in the offing try to set the date for between June 22nd and July 23rd, which is the period covered by the 7th-house Sun influences which bear on your marriage and love affairs. This is a good period for forming any kind of partnership if it's no more than a close friendship with another. You are highly popular with both sexes during this period and easily win the favor of your superiors—if you admit having any. Good for dealing with your boss if you are less than fully satisfied with your working conditions. All in all, this should be a happy period in your life if you will let someone else more closely into it.

July 24th begins a period of good financial indications, but you'll read more of this in our August-September issue.

in your solar chart indicates that you'll come out ahead on any reasonable chance-taking with your money.

Very little is likely in the way of quick money during the period which you enter on June 22nd and which expires July 23rd. This is a time for unselfish thinking and actions. You fit in with our war program nicely during this time for you are attuned to the spirit of self-sacrifice. For you Aquarian girls who have had any thought of entering the nursing profession or going in for volunteer first-aid work this is the period in which to act on your impulse. You are strictly a servant of humanity now, regardless of your circumstances and surroundings. About your only financial gain now would come through your employment, and through your willingness to serve rather than any demands you make.

June 24th introduces a period of partnerships and cooperation. More of this in our next issue as it extends into August.

PISCES - - June - July

For Those Born Feb. 19-March 20

★ Try to get away from the war news and enjoy yourself from June 22nd to July 23rd.

THE financial-domestic cycle which began for you Pisceans on May 21st carries through June 21st, and centers your thoughts on financial security for your later years. This is not altogether in tune with our present time of stress and uncertainty, but even the war doesn't detract from your chances of financial gain in land, real estate and home property deals. It is a good time in which to push matters concerning joint or family property, or to act as an agent for another in land and real estate matters if you are unable to invest in such things with your own capital. Good also for getting loans or credits if you wish to buy property.

You're likely not to know yourself during the period from June 22nd to July 23rd, for you'll be at least ten years younger in temperament than usual. It's a time of relaxation, gayety, inspiration and all-round good times, also for a bit of speculation if this seems indicated by your circumstances. If you are in any way connected with the amusement or entertainment business you can expand now and get the backing you need for expansion. Barring this, it would be a fine time for your vacation if you can arrange it. Get out and away from war news, radio commentators and enjoy yourself. You enjoy the company of the other sex now and this is reciprocated, meaning you're popular with anyone of the other sex whom you'd like to know better.

You enter a period of self-sacrifice and service on July 24th, but more of this in our next issue as it extends well into August.

Make all decisions and begin actions 30 minutes before time of aspect. War time is used. First column shows aspects, second shows time of aspects. In third column G means good, A means adverse, D means doubtful. Fourth column shows key figures which refer to aspect chart below the Aspectarian. For instance, 03 after an aspect, means Moon to Venus—if good is good for partnership, marriage, social life, as referred to in ASPECT CHART.

SIR STAFFORD CRIPPS

class, but his planetary indications took care of that.

Cripps is admitted to be the only Englishman who has ever come to a real understanding with Joseph Stalin. It is safe to say that if he had been given a free hand he might have brought Russia into immediate alignment with the so-called encircling nations who strove to stop Hitler before he became sufficiently strong to threaten Europe, but here he was working against the Bolshevik-hating element in Britain's high places.

His ability to see eye to eye with Stalin is accounted for in an astrological sense by a comparison of their charts. The Cripps friendly and pleasant Capricorn Jupiter is at the place of Stalin's Sun. Cripps' Utopian and communistic Pisces Moon is with Stalin's Jupiter. Jupiter is the signifier of the harmony between these two statesmen from two countries divided by distance and tradition.

And now here is a surprise for those who have not already compared birth dates. Sir Stafford Cripps was born just four days later than was Adolph Hitler! The sign positions in their charts are identical with two exceptions. Cripps was born when the Moon was in the mystical, sensitive sign Pisces, while the Moon in Hitler's chart is in the serious, business sign Capricorn. Hitler has a militaristic Aries Mercury, while Cripps has a patient and determined Taurian Mercury.

This Moon-Mercury difference alters the characters of Cripps and Hitler to the extent that they could not be considered alter or twin egos by any type of deduction. Each has great capacity but it is expressed far differently, although the extent of this astrological difference cannot be fully delineated, due to the absence of knowledge as to Cripps' hour of birth. The outstanding difference as evidenced by their actions is that Cripps has humanitarian ideals while Hitler is a snarling tyrant with the ambitions of Atilla the Hun.

Had Cripps been delegated to deal with Hitler instead of Chamberlain, there is no doubt that he would have been fully capable of judging the dictator's motives, and more than a match for him.

Sir Stafford is partially dominated by Taurus' aggregation of four planets, and this led to his accumulation of a fine addition to his family fortune through his law practice, but his humanitarian instincts caused him to quit his rich practice at a time when his country needed him.

It is this deep-seated humanitarian phase of his character that makes Sir Stafford the coming man, not only in England but the world. The Aquarian principles which will dominate world diplomacy during the later phases of this war and the period that follows it finds England's old system of big estates and fortunes that have been passed on through heredity quite as out of date as the old British system of exploiting weaker nations. Cripps' is the one outstanding British leader who has grasped this and is ready not only to embrace, but to lead in the new order.

Off hand, this would seem to be a big order for a man even of the stature of the progressive and humanitarian Cripps—that is, "teaching an old dog new tricks" or converting Britain from its former policies, but it should be remembered that the events of the times are with him. Younger and more progressive Englishmen cannot have failed to note the difference in loyalty shown by the natives of our one-time colony, the Philippine Islands, and that loyalty—or rather the lack of it—shown to England by the Malaysians and Burmese, who turned on their former exploiters, the British, to do fifth-column work for the invading Japs.

Destined as he is from an astrological standpoint to lead England into a new "promised land" of world endeavor, it appears that his selection to take over Churchill's job—as hinted by the press—would be a grave error on the part of the English people. Just now England is still too much infested with old-line Tories and conservatives to allow him the backing he would have to possess if he were to succeed. With the Japs at the gates of India on April 10th, Sir Stafford was hamstrung in his efforts to unite the two nations in war by the London war cabinet.

Then too, when his chart similar in many respects to that of Hitler, his astrological indications do not justify the belief that he would make a good war prime minister. It is to be observed that Cripps is laboring under the same detrimental affliction of Neptune as did Chamberlain and Daladier, and that this condition does not clear up until after October 1st, 1942.

However, great changes are on schedule following June 1st, 1942. This affects Sir Stafford, along with officialdom in Britain and other participants in the world conflict. New responsibilities which are likely to gravitate Cripps' way are subject to disappointing results, especially after August, 1942. The periods following the new Moon of August 12th and September 10th are times that will bear watching. There is a definite link between the planetary positions of May 11th, 1940, when Churchill became Prime Minister and the chart of Cripps which has already shown manifestation.

A more than ordinary mystic phase of consciousness gives Sir Stafford a lead over other English diplomats in dealing with most of India's leaders, although a comparison of his chart with that of India's spiritual leader, the non-combative Mohandas Gandhi, born October 2nd, 1869, shows that these two could hardly see eye to eye on cooperation between the two countries. There are too many variances in their charts to permit of full agreement.

As for his late mission to India, it is not surprising that it did not succeed when we note that Sir Stafford's crisis-indicating Neptune was by transit in his solar house of emissaries and ambassadors in a blockading to progressed Sun, Mars and Mercury in a two-way sign, showing an involved and confused state of mind, with a division of interests—signified by the two Indian parties, the Congress and the Moslem.

British officialdom could have foreseen this and avoided the diplomatic defeat suffered at a critical moment, but England has always won out because of her patience and tenacity—and in spite of a lack of foresight that has more than once threatened her existence.

In conclusion we can only repeat that Sir Stafford Cripps has a mighty world mission to perform. His is the type of cosmic character that will be needed in the manifestation of the Aquarian principles of world cooperation which is in the offing. He is the man of destiny.

him in the pre-war days, he readily assented and began giving directions to his art staff.

This chart, as you will note, shows what he believes will happen in the Indian Ocean during the storm season in that part of the globe. He declared with a twinkle in his eye that he had perfected a glass that would allow him to see the other side of any planet within telescopic range, and concluded his little joke with the following declaration:

"So I sat and looked at the weather of the Far East, around the world. I don't think I dast tell you all the things I saw, but I can give you the gist of it. The monsoon rains will keep the Japs and the Nazis out of India at least until late this year, and these enemies will not over-run the land of the Rajas successfully until then, if at all."

And now to the professor's prediction we will add another. When peace comes once more to a tortured world Professor Maxwell will bring his weather predictions back to the readers of this magazine, and the discoveries he makes in the interim will make the accuracy of his predictions even more amazing than they were before Japan started on her program of self destruction and national hari kari.

In the meantime we'll try to give you a visit with him occasionally, confident that you will not be bored by the experience.

cussion, he is a very fine example of a true cog in the Cosmic Mechanism.

The son of a swift-riding cavalry officer, Wuerst was born January 19th, 1919, 6:55 p.m., at Bayside, Long Island, New York. Now let's see just where the cosmic puzzle begins to fit together.

Wuerst joined up with the U. S. Marines to serve his country and see the world. This was quite natural, he having Jupiter—ruler of his fifth house of experiments—in Cancer, by progression near Jupiter in the U. S. chart.

With South Node at the place of progressed Uranus, one of the areas crossed by the full Moon of December 3rd, 1941, which touched off the Jap attack on the U. S., it is only mechanical that young Wuerst would be among those present in the vanguard of American forces slated to meet the Japs in Manila.

And with Saturn rising near his natal ascendant at twenty-seven degrees Leo, but one degree from the Philippine locality Midheaven, it is only simple cosmic mathematics to suppose that our youthful marine would find himself in Manila.

Wuerst was born when Sun was in the twenty-ninth degree of Capricorn, the identical degree as progressed Pluto in the U. S. chart, an area that ties into the Japanese Emperor's chart. And the Wuerst Uranus in Aquarius in his 7th house of contacts, enemies and war, is exactly at the same locality as Moon in the colonial 5th house of the U. S. chart—this alone being sufficient to project him into the Philippine territory with its twenty-eight degrees Aquarius nadir.

All of this is not mere fancy or coincidence. It is actual registered mathematical facts, showing that there is a real meaning to Cosmic Mechanics if we know how they operate.

Mars the fighter, ruler of fire, Aries and water Scorpio, being in his division of war stressed this type of expression in the Wuerst chart as a first vocational selection because of the hook-up with Uranus by conjunction and the opposition of both planets to Saturn, who governs his 6th house of work and service.

This was influenced because Mars has been close to his career ruler, Venus, by progression for a number of years past in the sign of Pisces, the navy.

Now a spinal disorder common to the Philippines was waiting for victims, and young Wuerst was cast to order for such an affliction. Why? Because a rising Saturn in Leo, ruling his body (ascendant) and sickness (6th house) was in opposition to Mars and Uranus in Aquarius, these two points being under affliction by Saturn and Uranus and brought to a head by the new Moon of October 19th, 1941.

A spinal operation was in order at this time and proved successful. The odds have been against him, due to the Saturn and Uranus transit affliction running from December 1941 to May 15th, 1942. His outlook as a future fighter is doubtful, especially if he fought in any severe engagements in the last two weeks of February, through March and April. With progressed Moon in Cancer, in his 12th house of confinement, hospitals and prisons, it can only be hoped that the good transit aspects of Saturn, Uranus and Neptune to his natal Sun will pull him through. Progressed Sun opposition to his ascendant farther cramps his chances to remain free of the enemy, but the human spirit can often rule its horoscope and we can only hope for the best.

Editor's Note: This is an excellent example of Mechanicalized chart delineation. It presents a style of horoscope analysis with a definite meaning.

12th house of the progressed chart, meaning that we will be operating at some disadvantage.

In connection with the war and our participation in it, one of the most interesting charts is that of Admiral Isoroku Yamamoto, of Japan, the Aries-minded official who boasted that he will dictate peace in the White House at Washington.

Jupiter in good aspect to Neptune in his chart gave this self-inflated Jap an expansive imagination, but he is also inclined to errors in judgment and overhasty conclusions, due to Mercury conjunct South Node in afflicting square to this same Jupiter. This can also lead to treachery from his associates, such as the Black Dragon organization in his own country, or Hitler to the west of him.

The Sun at his birth was fifteen degrees Aries, right over the 7th cusp, or War division of the U. S. chart. Square U. S. Sun and opposition U. S. Saturn, the area touched off by transit Mars, sponsoring the debacle at Pearl Harbor, December 7th, 1941. Still, despite his foolish boasting, Yamamoto is a dangerous enemy with a strong chart, and one to be reckoned with. His chart shows much action in 1942, with an expansive trend running wild for power, control and authority. He is a real menace and antagonist of the first magnitude to President Roosevelt, as representing America. Comparison of his and Mr. Roosevelt's charts show him to be second only to Adolph Hitler as an enemy to our President. Both of these enemies' charts clash violently with that of President Roosevelt. But in so far as our conflict in the Far East is concerned, the three enemy charts to watch are the Jap national chart, that of Emperor Hirohito (published in the February-March and April-May issues of this magazine) and Admiral Yamamoto's chart, which is published as a part of this article.

In President Roosevelt's chart the war-crisis factor shown by Neptune in his department of self, in square afflicting aspect to Military Mars in his section of administration still continues during 1942. While there will be a noticeable turn for the better in June, or at least a lessening of the disasters to which we have become accustomed, the U. S. progressed chart for 1942 continues under a distressed and crises-courtting affliction. Regardless of the utterances of at least one noted allied leader, the real turning point has not been reached. We must still attune our ears to news of defeats, waiting patiently for the turn in the tide of our affairs.

SAVED from The ATHENIA

a progressed aspect of the Sun extends to a full degree and a half.

Mars in the birth-chart square Moon in the house of death shows the predisposition to a violent death, and Jupiter in the birth-chart trine the Moon shows the predisposition to be saved from such catastrophe. And as both Mars and Jupiter were heavily aspected by progression at the time the Athenia was torpedoed, we have a complete astrological picture of what happened. But from these heavy progressed aspects alone the time is not precisely indicated.

We find that the precise time when an event indicated by major progressed aspects takes place is dependent on two things; on accessory planetary energy added to a planet involved in the progressed aspect or to the house indicating the department of life affected; and on the resistance or facilities which the environment affords for the indicated event during the time the heavy progressed aspect is operative. We may be sure that the event will occur when there is a peak of astrological energy bringing pressure in the direction of the event. But during the time the heavy progressed aspect is operative there may be several such peaks. And if these several peaks are of about equal power, the event will occur during the peak when the environmental facilities make it easy for the event to occur.

In this instance, for over a year Pax Walker had been under the influence of the heavy progressed aspects which indicated a predisposition toward some such event as occurred on September 3. Had the Nazis not invaded Poland she might have experienced some accident, but certainly she would not have been in the cold waters of the Atlantic Ocean because a ship had been torpedoed under her. But when England entered the war while she was in London, facilities for sudden accidents were greatly increased.

Then on September 3, minor progressed Mars came to the square of birth-chart and progressed Saturn, and minor progressed Uranus came to the inconjunct of birth-chart and progressed Neptune. These minor progressed aspects added still more energy to the thought-cells in the unconscious mind mapped by Mars and Uranus, which already were receiving powerful energy from the heavier progressed aspects. The thought-cells mapped by these two planets thus reached a peak of activity. And as this peak of activity coincided with facilities in the outer-plane environment for both peril and rescue, the event took place at that time.

Furthermore, the minor progressed aspect to Neptune indicated more precisely the nature of the environmental factor which brought the event into her life. Uranus represents the human element. Mars indicates the war, and progressed Mars conjunction Uranus the explosion. But the attack was made by a submarine, and submarines, as well as aircraft, are ruled by Neptune.

philosophy, law, higher mind and long journeys. 10th—profession, honor, occupation and public. 11th. friends, hopes, wishes and desires. 12th—sorrow, bondage, improvement, limitations, institutions and disappointments.

From your own chart check the two most important houses in your life from the directions given. For example if your sunsign house has another planet or two that are aspected in the eleventh house it's certain that you can sell to your friends (and that is not always too easy or even advisable) also that through your friends you will make many contacts to your benefit.

Then if your ruling planet and/or a strong placement of other planets are in the 12th house you will also do well in your work with hospitals, prisons jails etc. and in connection with this there may be some limitations but if you persevere the results will be above your expectation or what you could have accomplished elsewhere.

Astrology is a subject as big and deep as life itself and naturally we can only give the high points in a series of short articles, but if you will study each article of the series and have a reliable copy of your own chart to check on you'll have the key to an endless expansion of your ability, not only as a salesperson but to life in general. Incidentally, the planet which rules your rising sign is your ruler. If you do not know pretty close to the time of your birth your next choice is the planet which rules the sunsign.

Now, in regard to recognizing and selling the Arian customer or prospect: The physical characteristics given will of course be modified by planetary placement, but generally every Aries native will have enough of the traits listed to identify. In fact he is about the easiest to recognize at a glance because the sun is the most powerful planet and marks men deeply.

They are of slight and wiry build, often tall, triangular head, bony face, ruddy complexion and hair, many have freckles. Hair recedes at temples, generally bald earlier than most, sharp eyes, sheep-like nose, long neck, and often have scar or mole on their face. They move quickly if not spasmodically with head held high.

If you have Aries for a sunsign or have it rising or even a strong planetary influence in fiery signs especially Aries and in the first house you should have little difficulty in handling the Aries customer. (This goes for all the signs). But if you are not in this position study the characteristics of the Arians as given in the beginning, and govern yourself accordingly. Always remember to let him take the lead. If the proposition has any appeal at all for him let him "take it away from you." He'll do it jig time and tell you where you can sell more. Also give special attention to his innate independence. Thomas Jefferson was an Arian and he wrote the greatest theme on independence the world has ever known. Do not even suggest to him how he should run his business, it even bothers him if you try to help him into his topcoat or light his cigar.

This does not mean he is unfriendly or incapable of being a true friend. Indeed, if you win his confidence he'll go through fire and brimstone to assist you. Be patient with his impetuosity and overlook his apparent inconsiderations. These things and any sales resistance you meet in the field are good for you because it's an opportunity to show your metal and make a bigger man of yourself as well as filling the order book.

NEPTUNE writing always flows like the waves of the sea.

Actual examples will help to clarify the above general principles, and perhaps it is well to begin with a chart and handwriting familiar to almost everyone. The handwriting of Thomas A. Edison — February 11, 1847 — is strongly Aquarian. It is educated, controlled, with a long, generous swing over the signature. There are no unnecessary lines in the words themselves. In fact, there is an economy of movement in all but the long strokes. This is an extremely interesting example of the influence of Saturn moderating a Uranian tendency. The Sun, Mercury and Neptune are all in Aquarius, with Uranus, the ruler of Aquarius, in Aries. But Saturn, conjunction Venus (in the same house but not in the same sign) brings in an artistic, contracted, exact influence which characterizes the small letters. For those of you who understand Numerology, you will see the Edison's Birthpath is 11-2 (4), which indicates routine and a super ability to handle details. The Aquarian influence directs these talents into inventive and electrical lines. Saturn makes the letters exact, conservative; but Uranus comes along and says, "All right, you can have the small letters, but I will have my fling in spite of your repressive influence. I am not in Aries and the Sun in Aquarius for nothing!" This shows how different influences modify the handwriting as different planetary strength modifies a chart.

In the next issue we shall analyze more charts and handwriting of the natives.

much as can musical ability. Here, as in musical lines, however, those who are more "gifted" by nature, tend to surpass the others.

THE DREAM RING

Dear Miss Dahl: My boy friend, who is in the Army, had his leave cancelled, upon the outbreak of hostilities. We had planned to become engaged, go together and pick out the ring, etc., so of course these plans were delayed indefinitely. In all his letters he said there was no prospect of him getting leave. One night I had a very lifelike dream in which he put an engagement ring on my finger. That wasn't anything unusual—I had often dreamed that! What was surprising was that the calendar on the wall (in the dream) said "March 26, 1942"—which was then six weeks in the future. I told Mother about the dream, but thought it too silly to mention when writing the boy friend. Unexpectedly, six weeks later, he finally did get leave, and we became engaged on the exact date I'd seen in my dream! Mother will testify this to be the truth. Sincerely,

(Miss) Joan Marie Sievers
Boston, Massachusetts.

Here is no case of mere telepathy, since the young man concerned did not know when he would get leave, and hence could not transmit the information to his sweetheart via "mental radio." It is evidently a genuine case of prophetic dream, which is comparatively rare. For just a small moment a tiny edge of the veil hiding the future was lifted, for Miss Sievers.

DREAM COMES TRUE SEVEN YEARS LATER

Dear Miss Dahl and ESP Friends: When it comes to ESP, I'm at the bottom of the class. Never have been "psychic." But for one thing, I might still be a stiff-backed materialist. . . . Since the age of 14, when I first had the strange dream, it had recurred, over and over, four or five times a year. The last time I had that same dream was when I was 21. In the dream I would always find myself lying on a bed recovering from some minor injuries, in a white-walled, bare, cell-like room in a monastery, with dark-robed monks solicitously bending over me. As I am (by right of birth, at least) of another faith, I could not figure where, why, or how my subconscious mentality could weave such "dream stuff." Despite its frequent recurrence, I never took this dream seriously. Two summers ago, on vacation, I was motoring in the Canadian wilds—100 miles from nowhere, or so I thought—when I suffered an accident, my car skidding into a small gully. When I "woke up" I thought I was dreaming again: there I was, on the same familiar dream bed, plain cell-like room, with the goodly Friars bending over me. Exactly, in every single blessed detail, like my dream! Staying until my slight injuries were better, I puzzled over the meaning of the dream. My accident, etc., didn't seem important enough to have dreamt about years in advance. On parting the good Brothers directed me to take another, more navigable road, which I hadn't known about. Now we come to the point: The road THEY recommended led me right to the lovely girl who later became my wife! And, Friends, the meaning was made clear. More power to your ESP work.

J. J. Wainwright, Jr.

Winnipeg, Alta., Canada.

Of all ESP phenomena, probably the prophetic dream—particularly when occurring years in advance of the actual event—is the most interesting and conducive to speculation. Were there not so many thousands of well authenticated cases of these on record, many of us would deny the very possibility of such happenings, branding them as far-fetched, flaunting all the principles of logic, reason, or condemning them with the word "coincidence," or just "invention." The very weight of the mass of evidence, from people of integrity in all walks of life, is all that prevents its relegation to limbo by the unimaginative orthodox.

GEMINI LOOKING AHEAD

ture's program, persons born under Gemini or with planetary positions stressed in Gemini are due to take the front in leadership and execution. And as we get into 1943-45 it will be noted that the sign Gemini will be more in the spotlight and to the fore in national and world affairs. Headwork and quick thinking will be in demand as never before, and this is where you Gemini people excel. Acquisitiveness and envy over the rich possessions of this world began the war cycle. Thinking, and teaching even the least advanced of the earth's peoples to think, will be the feature of the new Gemini cycle.

Thus it is advisable that you of Gemini's clan get yourselves in trim, mind alert, muscles flexed, nerves atingle, ambitions soaring onward and upward. It is a time to make a survey of your birth and progressed charts to learn to what extent you are identified with Gemini and thus learn how to be the most useful, how best to fit into the new order of things. Support from Gemini to Libra and Aquarius, of the air triplicity, will be noted in the years ahead. Aries and Leo also share to a degree. These five signs are in line for development and expansion.

The ponderous planets, Uranus and Saturn, are now visitors in Gemini, Uranus for the first time in 84 years—from June 1st, 1858 to June 25th, 1865. Saturn was last in Gemini August, 1912 to June 1915. Thus it is the first time these planets representing the old and new order of things have been at the same time in Gemini in the history of the United States. This has added significance because Uranus is also in Gemini in the U. S. foundational map of July 4th, 1776.

In your Gemini solar alignment Saturn governs your 8th house that has influence over money of mate, partner, indebtedness, estate, inheritances, etc. Uranus governs your 9th solar region of in-laws, distant localities, law, education, science, religion, philosophy, politics, progress, prophetic dreams, etc.

In the year ahead, from June, 1942, with Saturn and Uranus in your first division of self interests and application, you can expect to have much that pertains to your 8th and 9th divisions of life bring its influence to bear on your strictly personal aims, welfare and management. These planets move slowly, so their influence in their present position will be with you for some time. This will give you time to adjust your viewpoint and discard many preconceived ideas with which your mind is now cluttered.

This change of viewpoint and conception is important, but it should be easy for you flexible and adaptable Gemini people. Much will depend on how you manage various set-backs and depressing obstacles to which you will be subject.

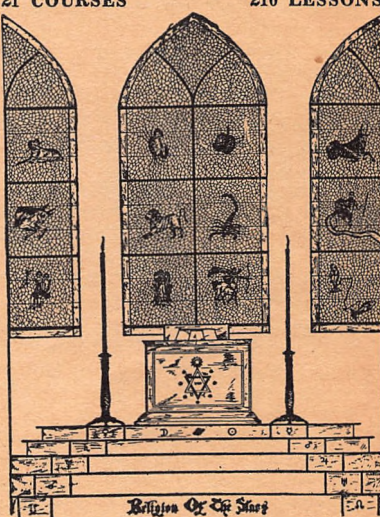

Sudden and unexpected events will have their effect on you during the year ahead, and during the following six years you will become so accustomed to them that they will seem to be almost routine. Those born May 21st to June 10th will be more in the direct path of the Saturn-Uranus impulse in the next twelve months.

Some old condition, or an elderly person may now enter the lives of you Gemini folk, bringing some added responsibility. Some added burden or responsibility in management service, finance and work, or in connection with property is imminent. Short trips in your vicinity may now be extended to longer trips for business or personal reasons. Of prime importance will be war, government or war industry services. Personal recognition of merit in past performance looms up in your life. Close relatives and neighbors—always prominent in your life—will be stressed in your affairs in 1942, and much coming and going between you and them is probable.

In some way you have experienced growth and expansion during the past year. This has been due to the position of Jupiter, who leaves Gemini and enters Cancer on June 10th to remain there until June 30th, 1943. This means improvement in your financial department unless your birth chart shows an afflicted condition.

In a general sense a better financial outlook is presaged and you should endeavor to make the Jupiter advent into Cancer a period of advantageous adjustment in your financial condition. Of course if an astrological "bottleneck" exists in your birth chart many of your fondest expectancies for gain and a better life will fail to mature, or will be postponed until progressions have relieved their cramping influences. That is why it is most important to study your birth chart at this time. The accentuation of your sign by planetary occupation stresses difficulties as well as chances for expansion.

Those of you in direct military service, or who will be thus situated during the year ahead will be able to make the most of the education and environmental changes which come with such service, and through it all you may make fine progress in the development of your character. Thus this "time out" in civil-life activities will not prove the total loss you may at first believe it to be.

The sensitive part of your anatomy is your lungs, so proper care to avoid colds and bronchial troubles will be necessary. Neptune's occupancy of Virgo can accentuate this liability toward physical disability, involving conditions of lungs, digestive tract and nerves. The element of fraud, confusion, deceit or illusion is also operative.

Following October 1st and during the ensuing fourteen years Neptune brings a cooperative type of Utopian manifestation into the Gemini path. Great strides in art, science, literature, air travel and spiritual development become general among those of your sign.

Avoid a tendency toward domineering and dictating to others and you will be able to utilize the benefic rays of Pluto during the years ahead.

CANCER LOOKING AHEAD

and his wife, we four and no more.' Now that has been the attitude of far too many Cancer folk, but it is now out of date and must be abolished.

Jupiter, who is exalted in your sign Cancer, will be in this area of the heavens up to June 30th, 1943, and this should be a great aid in the expansion and broadening of scope recommended for you in the foregoing paragraph. This twelve-month period should bring you out of your shell—if you have remained there during the past months of world struggle.

It is a time to build your health and vitality for your cells are now receptive. The stomach is more active, the liver in a condition to do its part in purifying the blood stream. You should avoid a tendency to over-eat, especially in the case of rich foods. The fact that you are likely to be prosperous during this period may cause you to lean toward luxurious living. Special caution will be required if you are inclined toward alcoholic stimulants.

If you are in business for yourself, or working for others in a managerial capacity it is your year to extend either your scope of sales or your authority in some manner. While Jupiter is in Cancer is a good time to extend your managerial authority, if an employee or official, or to advertise your business, more in order to secure good will in the future than for any immediate sales.

Although expansion is recommended, it should be achieved gradually, and in a way not to commit yourself too heavily or spread our efforts too thinly over a large area. Remember that this Jupiter occupancy of your sign is only for a year's duration and that the cramping influence of Saturn will be felt when he enters your sign July 1st, 1944.

So that you may fully take advantage of the Jupiter application to your sign, we are setting forth below the periods during which his rays apply the most directly, according to your birthday.

| Directly applies | Those born |
|------------------|------------------------|
| July, 1942 | June 21st to July 11th |
| August, 1942 | July 1st to 20th |
| September, 1942 | July 6th to 22nd |
| October, 1942 | July 10th to 22nd |
| November, 1942 | July 13th to 22nd |
| December, 1942 | July 10th to 22nd |
| January, 1943 | July 6th to 20th |
| February, 1943 | July 4th to 20th |
| March, 1943 | July 4th to 18th |
| April, 1943 | July 5th to 20th |
| May, 1943 | July 13th to 22nd |
| June, 1943 | July 13th to 22nd |

Now note your birthday brackets and then concentrate on all activities that call for expansion during the month listed on the left side of the column and you may be sure that your efforts will receive the direct application of Jupiter's helpful rays.

Legal matters and litigation usually work better when Jupiter is in your sign, so if something of this nature has been pending, this is the year to push it. Travel of some kind is indicated, and a long trip or permanent move is not out of the question. The Jupiterian influence will be favorably felt now if you must change your locality. Growth of your personal finances or business seems indicated, that is, under the limitations mentioned earlier in this article.

Seek church, fraternal and patriotic-group positions. Make peace with yourself and any supposed enemies. Keep in mind that your natural inclination is to be touchy, and easily insulted. A philosopher once said that no man is your friend or enemy, but all men are your teachers.

Even under the restrictions of a war economy you should be well able to manage your affairs so as to show some financial advancement. If you are unable to do this it is a pretty fair indication that your individual birth chart is afflicted. Consult an astrologer about this just as you would consult a physician during ill-health.

The planets Saturn and Uranus will be in conjunction in the sign Gemini during the year ahead, in your 12th solar house, or department of sorrows, restrictions, public institutions and other matters that are not fully under your own control but still affect your life. Uranus has to do with government policy, and with the limiting influence of Saturn can indicate grief, suffering and many personal problems because our nation is mothering (Cancer) the world, and you will be called upon to do your part in the titanic world struggle. Your best channels lie in volunteer work in this respect. Enjoying rather than resenting it.

Many Cancer natives will earn fame and glory in military service, with Jupiter hovering overhead, and will rise to feats that will immortalize them in history. Captain Colin P. Kelly, with Sun eighteen degrees in Cancer at birth is a conspicuous example.

serve fund for unexpected occasions when you may need it. Live economically and build up your savings account. Give close attention to your financial affairs. Though the possession of a large reserve may serve as an urge to expand, continued extra prudence will be needed.

Your chance for progress will come through the demonstration of conservative judgment and the ability to discount grandiose plans. Remain an optimist if you like, but when it comes to spending, make sure that you get full value for every cent. This is not to instill in you a fear of poverty, but to make you realize that to have security you need a surplus in the bank.

For Virgo

People you have not seen for years may hold the key to great prestige and advancement. For a while you may be torn between impulsiveness and passivity, but you should be able to strike a happy progressive balance. Regard the next twelve months as a period of preparation for future accomplishment, although you will make noticeable progress. If romance runs counter to your desires, let it run, for you will capture it in due time.

You are likely to work in a new environment and concurrently find an expansion of your social horizon. Give no thought to bitterness of the past. Plan a happy future instead.

For Libya

Pure luck may solve your biggest problems. It is most likely to happen right while you are carrying out your plans. Take each assignment in your stride. Work will be far more interesting than mere pleasure. Your written words may prove greater power than usual, so when ideas pop into your mind, jot them down for later use. Your personal efficiency and resourcefulness may have an extraordinary, encouraging effect on those who are in position to increase your income. Career development and love are joyously linked for the Libra born.

For Scorpio

There are excellent possibilities ahead for you. It will be a cycle of monetary improvement, with conditions better than you have had for some time. Your requirements, activities, or line of business will bring you into associations with artistic and professional people. Broaden your knowledge of the world and life through study, travel, religion and humanitarian endeavor. These will not only bring compensation of their own, but will open new avenues through which many splendid things can be realized. Your year has all indications of becoming outstandingly fortunate.

For Sagittarius

This year, to be successful, you will have to be courteous, tactful, and wise. No matter how hasty your temper and abrupt your speech, don't be inconsiderate. Beneath your roughness you have a wealth of generous and splendid impulses. Be gracious and strong and good fortune will smile on you. It does not take much to make you combative, impatient and belligerent, and no matter how much you enjoy a verbal or physical battle, such hostilities usually turn out to be expensive luxuries.

Learn to negotiate instead of being arbitrary. Learn to please; anticipate prejudice; be enthusiastic rather than sarcastic. These may seem unimportant, but they are often the difference between profit and loss. Heed these suggestions now that Jupiter occupies your Eighth House which rules frozen assets. To thaw out your accounts, keep your disposition warm and gentle.

For Capricorn

During the Jupiter cycle you will have to discipline yourself so strictly that the slightest breath of scandal or criticism cannot breeze past your reputation or your relationship with your associates. If you have a joint bank account, make sure that the balance is accurate. Pay and collect bills promptly. Don't ask nor give extended credit.

Do not force issues when your work or job is concerned since the planets Saturn and Uranus occupy your Solar Sixth House. Heavier and more important responsibilities are liable to be placed on you. But prove yourself equal to the demand. If you are enthusiastic and self-confident, results will more than justify the expenditure of energy.

For Aquarius

Affections, sympathies and business and professional loyalties are under constructive Saturn, Uranus and Jupiter rays throughout the next twelve months—a propitious cycle for new undertakings. You may acquire profit by working for or with the government. Advantageous changes could occur in the Fall and hindrances disappear almost immediately. Don't let an inferiority complex encourage frustrations and repressions. Give yourself a real opportunity to express your true character, unhampered by inhibitions. For inspiration, look to the star-spangled sky where the Sun and its many satellites never waver in their eternal duties.

For Pisces

Like a Jack-in-the-box, surprising good luck may scare you, but grab it before it eludes you. Don't stand still and wait. When things don't suit you, try to change conditions. Several adjustments in your domestic life may be necessary because of the Uranus and Saturn vibrations in your Solar Fourth House. Your closest companions will demonstrate great sympathy and understanding, willing to make real sacrifices to assure your well-being. Matters identified with education, children, romance, pleasure, adornment, luxuries and speculation can be handled with ease during this cycle. You may find a profitable outlet for your surplus energy in political activity, even though it be social-club politics.

YOUR LOVE LIFE

find yourselves at variance, after the first flush of romance is over. You are both fixed in your opinions, and may not find it easy to achieve smooth cooperation and a fifty-fifty partnership. Both must be willing to make compromises, to make "I" subordinate to "WE," for the good of the partnership. Are you willing? If next August you both can answer Yes to that, then you can safely go ahead and marry. Good luck!

G.S.O., ILL. (Jan. 26, 1918): Astrology confirms your feeling that the Gemini-born nurse is your right mate. Looks like that commission is in the bag. Congratulations, Flyin' Yank!

R. A. P., VA. (April 27, 1884): You and your finance understand each other very well, and your love is a mature thing that will bring development and progress to you both. You have the blessing of Astrology!

M. C. S., MINN. (Aug. 5, 1895: You ask me to give an opinion concerning the characters of two persons. This I ethically cannot do unless you state your relationship to them, and the problem involved. Please write again, Friend.

F. S. PENNA (Nov. 18, 1909): You "like" but do not love Mr. Leo. For an ardent, demonstrative and idealistic perlike you, liking is not enough on which to base a marriage, if a full and satisfying companionship is what you want. I would advise that you wait. When progressed Sun transits your natal Venus within five years, you will have the opportunity to make a marriage for love. Other opportunities will come before then, but they probably won't offer the kind of marriage you want in your heart. Waiting will be worthwhile, Friend.

D. S. M., La.— (Nov. 4, 1900): You two disagree on almost everything except that you do not want to give each other up. How typical of you Taurus-Scorpio opposites! You do have such a hard time understanding and cooperating with each other! Unless you can come to an amicable agreement, at least with regard to everyday business, financial and domestic problems, a reconciliation would not prove lasting. I suggest you redouble your efforts towards a better understanding. By middle of June you may find your efforts have been effective. Good luck to you!

W. S. E., ALA. (May 30, 1918): Well, Brother Yank, I say, if you love the girl, go ahead and marry her. Astrologically your blend looks fine. People who tell you that you have no "right" to marry (when, as in your case there is nothing in military regulations temporarily forbidding marriage) might do better to tend to their knitting. Now, as never before, we must all reaffirm our faith in Victory for a just cause. One of the ways we can do it is: Marriage as usual. Yes, Yank: LIFE as usual.

L. G., ORE. (Jan. 17, 1913): Your fiancée's progressed Mars coming to strong aspect of his birth Venus indicates the probability of marriage between his 26th and 27th birthdays. Don't let the delay in marriage plans make you disheartened, Miss G. Occupy your spare time with volunteer Red Cross or similar defense activities, keep faith in your love, and let your Marine know that you're right here on the Home Front, backing him up with all you've got!

O. R. W., N. Y. (Nov. 14, 1924): Mars and Uranus were in conjunction when you were born, warning you against haste, impulse, and emotionalism in love. Progressions in your chart indicate that marriage made before you are 21, may result in unhappiness and divorce. I would advise that you keep all young men as friends merely, until that time, when you will be more mature, and better qualified to assume the responsibilities of marriage.

G. J., ILL. (July 14, 1925): The boy in question has Mars square his Venus and Uranus, natal, which may cause him to be very erratic and undependable in love until some time after his 28th birthday. You and he are not properly mated, Miss J. Your Mr. Right will come along—be patient!—likely when your progressed Venus makes favorable aspects to natal Moon and Saturn, when you are 21.

E. P., N. Y. (May 2, 1894): July 1943-July 1944 (current Jupiter transits Leo) should bring you fine opportunities for improving financial security and domestic conditions. Meanwhile, you may have a good chance to improve your money interests by a change in employers this summer.

U.P., KANS. (Dec. 15, 1921): Saturn conjunct Neptune and Mars, and square to Venus in Mr. Libra's chart gives him an erratic, complex emotional nature. Four or five years more of harsh experience may be needed to make him grow up emotionally and mentally to the point where he realizes that one can receive from love only what one brings to it. Until this development within him has taken place, it is doubtful that any one woman can hold him for long. You would be wise to plan a new life, without him, Friend.

J.E., OHIO (Dec. 2, 1920): Indeed, I do think it wiser for you to associate with other boys rather than wait for the proud and undemonstrative erstwhile boy friend to make the first move towards reconciliation. Your Union Chart with Capricorn has too many disruptive Saturn-Sun-Moon aspects for the achievement of real, sympathetic understanding—as events have clearly shown you. You have loved a dream of him, conceived in your own mind—not the person as he really is. If you look around, you'll find a boy who fits a good deal better into that dream picture!

C.A.M., ORE. (Jan. 30, 1916): Astrologically, neither of the persons whose birthdata you submitted are properly mated with you for marriage, i.e., for a lifetime partnership. I would not advise that you make any move to change your present domestic setup until after August of this year, at which time you should seek legal advice to help you retain your children's custody.

C.C.T., S.C. (aJn. 30, 1900): You ask whether you should "let" Mr. Leo divorce his wife, or not. That, Mrs. T., is strictly his problem, not yours. If you make yourself responsible for decisions which he should be mature enough to make for himself, you will only court serious trouble. I would advise you to steer clear of him, at least until such time as he comes to you a free man, and you yourself have achieved the legal and moral right to see him. Take the right course, Friend, and you will earn the right to be happy!

G.G.M., IOWA (June 30, 1921): You are very likely to marry when progressed Mars sextiles your radical Venus, around the age of 22 years. As the dates you enclosed are not very compatible with your own, I feel sure it will not be to either of these persons.

B.N., ILL. (Dec. 17, 1910): In-law troubles are the bane of many of our Sagittarius-Gemini astrological opposites. By all means, get a place of your own, even if it's just a room. Who can blame your Gemini wife for being restless, dissatisfied? You'd feel the same way if you were living with her relatives, wouldn't you? Three's a crowd in your love nest, Mr. N., unless the third is a "bundle from Heaven"!

M.F.T., MICH. (Sept. 14, 1897): Both men whose birthdates you enclose seem to be about equally fine, blending equally well with you for marriage. My opinion is that you should let your heart decide. A "vacation" away from both of them should give you the answer!

MISS V., NEBR. (Nov. 5, 1911): Your and Scorpio's charts blend very well for friendship, but I find no factors strong enough to bring about mutual romance, and marriage. Were this to have transpired at all, it would have happened a number of years ago, during the early part of your friendship. Adverse Saturn-Sun aspects in your Union Chart prevented this. When progressed Mars trines your Venus in your 33rd year, you should find happy romance and marriage.

M.M.B., MINN. (Feb. 21, 1892): Strong Neptune-Mars aspects in your Union Chart indicates some peculiar or deceptive conditions surrounding your association with Mr. Pisces. There may be unconscious and innocent, or conscious and deliberate deception, here. Better look into this before you marry. Have each of you been completely honest with the other? If the answer is Yes, then you can safely marry, providing you will agree that there shall be no secrets between you, but scrupulous frankness and honesty at all times. Defer plans until spring 1943, Friend.

A.C., ARIZ. (Apr. 25, 1884): Now that your progressed Mars is moving away from the square of your birth Saturn, you should experience better opportunities to improve your financial security; but I find no indication of any sizeable benefit through inheritance or speculative ventures until your 63rd to 65th years.

C.E.B., WASH.: Please send me your birth data. Without your birth chart I cannot give you an astrological opinion. In the mean time I urgently recommend that you see a physician.

J.T.A., IND. (Feb. 1, 1928): You bet you'll make a fine astrologer, what with Sun in Aquarius (the sign ruling the subject), and its ruler Uranus conjunct Jupiter, and Mars and Venus in your twelfth house of occultism! List of books being sent you by mail. More power to you, Son!

L.S.D., N.Y. (Aug. 9, 1918). Astrology gives you the Green Light. Congratulations, Soldier!
